Grasshoppers A Burden.
Oil Needs Help.
Queer Advice From Lawyers.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

DR. LARRIMER, government entomologist, says grasshoppers destroying crops in northwestern and central states are expanding their ravages 50 miles a day, by taking to their wings. There is little hope for grasshopper control this season.

This reminds you that proud man, dressed in a little brief authority, may some day find himself wiped out by a combination of plagues, insects destroying crops, rats and ground squirrels carrying disease, ants destroying everything in hot countries, rabbits and mosquitoes.

Proud man should devote to the task of protecting himself against such enemies some of the ingenuity that he devotes to poison gas and explosives for killing other men.

Grasshoppers are not as foolish as men.

WITH MARTIAL LAW and state troops, Gov. Murray, in Oklahoma City, shuts down 3,106 oil wells, to put up the price of oil and prevent the waste of national resources.

But Texas and other fields will pour out more oil. You cannot deal with the oil problem on any but a national scale, and our favorite fetish and bugaboo, the silly antiquated Sherman act, prevents any real action.

THE OIL INDUSTRY needs help. Standard Oil of California reports for the first six months of 1931, prove it.

The profit was only 43 cents as against $1.53 for the first six months of 1930.

FEDERAL JUDGE R. J. Hopkins, all the way from Kansas, tells New York lawyers that they should not defend criminals they know to be guilty.

Several New York lawyers in their own language "will get a laugh out of that."

A man accused of crime and guilty usually HAS MONEY. The man accused but innocent usually HAS NOTHING.

Does the judge from Kansas want the New York criminal lawyers to starve to death? Let him remember the young corporation lawyer who said:

"The only favor a common man can do me is to get run over by the cars. Then I can make something defending the corporation against his damage suit."

CAPT. JOSEPH MEDILL Patterson, first-class newspaper man, will insist on flying, although as he himself said in a signed article a man should not fly after 50.

On Tuesday his big amphibian crashed with him at the controls just after the takeoff at Roosevelt Field, L. I., and turned upside down.

Patterson got out, cut on the head. Nothing worse happened because he had presence of mind in the crash and turned off the switch, avoiding what would have been a disastrous fire, with gasoline pouring everywhere. Two friends with him were unhurt.

Capt. Patterson then ordered out his machine, a biplane, the amphibian being smashed beyond repair, took the controls and flew off to his house up the Hudson River.

The average man past 50 insisting on running such risks would be called vain.

But Patterson, who is unusual, likes danger. When he was a war correspondent in Belgium, he went far out on the battlefield where shells were exploding and enjoyed "being more frightened than I ever was before in my life."

When we entered the war he went in as a gunner and up to the front.

GOV. ROOSEVELT, of New York, horrified by an uninterrupted series of murders, denouncing the shooting of five children "in a bootleg quarrel as a "damnable outrage" wants the United States government to control the sale of firearms.

Unfortunately those that bring in whisky could also bring automatics and other "rods." Men able to smuggle in Chinese and thousands of casks of whisky at one time could easily bring in a few thousand pistols. The price might be $25 instead of $5 but that would make little difference to the gangster.

And favorite gangster weapons, machine gun and sawed-off shotgun, any man may carry under the Constitution, for they are not concealed "weapons."

POLICE WITH riot guns and tear gas bombs were kept in and around the "Negro belt" in Chicago, but there are no more "red eviction riots." Evictions, turning Negroes out of their houses, have stopped for the time.

Some lily white gentlemen, not in the least "red," would be annoyed if they were turned out of their homes.

BRITAIN IS worried by a serious drop in the value of the pound sterling.

The Bank of England and the Banque de France are said to be at odds, the French bank going so far as to demand the removal of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England.

Can you imagine that, French bank dictating to the "Old Lady in Threadneedle street?" An Englishman couldn't be more surprised if he saw French frog legs threatening the roast beef of Old England.

But, FRANCE HAS THE GOLD ENGLAND LACKS.

WHEN WILL RUSSIA stop annoying and surprising our "best minds?" Now that government actually orders two enormous dirigibles, having studied the work of the German zeppelin carrying mail to Russian ice breakers in the Arctic Circle.

What does Russia want with the dirigibles? Answer that and you will oblige the "best minds."

Independents to Decide on Slate Tonight; Mansfield Has Tilt With Armstrong

Announcement of an Independent ticket to oppose that of the Republican organization at the September primary election was expected to follow a meeting of County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern with other Independent leaders tonight in the Keystone Athletic Club.

Plans for the Independent slate were formed tentatively at a meeting last night, attended by McGovern, minority Commissioner, now seeking one of the two majority posts; State Deputy Attorney General Ralph H. Smith, expected to become a candidate for District Attorney; City Councilmen Robert Garland and Charles Anderson, and former Councilman P. J. McArdle.

BARR TO FORE

Former State Senator C. M. Barr and State Senator William D. Mansfield both have been mentioned as McGovern's running mate for the two majority commissionerships. Barr is believed to be the more likely.

Mansfield also has been rumored as a possible ticket mate of Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong on the organization slate, but gave indication that that is not to materialize, as he and Armstrong clashed verbally at a luncheon of the Minor Judiciary Association yesterday.

Mansfield reiterated his belief that the districts outside Pittsburgh were entitled to representation on the Board of County Com-

LINDY AND WIFE STORMBOUND

AKLAVIK, N. W. T., Aug. 6.—(AP.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh were still stormbound at Aklavik today. Violent storms, which broke Wednesday, were still raging and a takeoff was considered impossible.

The daring pair was expected to await a change in the weather before taking off for Point Barrow, Alaska, the next stop in their holiday trip from New York to Tokio.

Violent storms swept the barren lands between Simpson and Aklavik shortly after the arrival of the Lindberghs from Baker Lake. Fog extended along the route from Aklavik to Point Barrow. Unless the weather changes suddenly, the flight of the Lindberghs to Point Barrow may be delayed for days.

City Greets Vets Opening Reunion; Gen. Cocheu Here

Pittsburgh opened its arms to receive veterans from many sections of the United States arriving here to attend the twelfth annual reunion of the 80th Division which opened today in Fort Pitt Hotel.

Heading the early arrivals was Brig. Gen. Frank S. Cocheu, commander of the 3rd Infantry Brigade, Regular Army, at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Sharing honors with him were several 80th Division heroes, including Lieut. Frank Schoble, of the former 318th Infantry, blinded at the front; Maj. Harry P. Holt, youngest major in the A. E. F., and Sergt. James J. Deighan, state adjutant of the American Legion.

REGISTRATION OPENS

Registration booths were opened at 9:30 a. m. and attendants were busy most of the morning. Between 400 and 500 veterans are already in the city. Every train is bringing hundreds more, prominent arrivals being escorted to the reunion headquarters by Brett Post 80th Division Band.

Rides this afternoon took the visitors on a tour of the city, starting at the Grant Building, where they were given an opportunity to see Pittsburgh from its highest building.

A meeting and vaudeville show after the formal welcome by officials, will be followed by an aerial display over downtown Pittsburgh, under direction of Maj. Hal Bazley, general manager of the Curtiss-Bettis Airport.

The advance guard of veterans arrived last night and early today. Among them was Howard Wells, of Petersburg, Va., past national commander of the 80th Division Veterans Association. He was blinded in action when his division was fighting in the Artois-Picardy sector in 1918.

PARLEY HELD ON PLEA TO LAMONT

Classify Industry as Public Utility Considered; Cut Output, Raise Price

By MAX HENRICI

Pittsburgh coal operators discussed at a recent meeting a proposal that they ask the federal government to regulate the coal industry as a public utility, a spokesman for the conference revealed exclusively to the Sun-Telegraph today.

Don Rose, general counsel for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, met with J. M. Stoneroad, president of the Carnegie Coal Company, today to consider putting the proposal into writing, in the form of a letter to Secretary of Commerce Lamont.

The meeting which brought forth the proposal had been called to discuss the invitation sent by Secretary Lamont and Secretary of Labor Doak to the operators to meet representatives of the United Mine Workers in Washington to see if anything could be done to rehabilitate the industry.

WAGES NOT ISSUE

It was the consensus of the operators that nothing would be gained by conferring with the miners' representatives since the wage question is only a side issue. The main problem to be solved, it was pointed out, is curtailment of excessive production. If overproduction could be prevented, it was said, the price of coal would rise and the wage question would take care of itself.

The operators' spokesman said:

"Two or three years ago if anyone had proposed government regulation to the operators it would have thrown them into a rage, and they would have denounced it as Bolshevism.

"Now they are inclined to welcome it as the only way out.

"They see nothing ahead of them, as things stand now, but the loss of their properties through their inability to sell coal at a profit."

The Mellon $200,000,000 Pittsburgh Coal Company, largest of the producers, is feeling the punch like the others, it was said.

SPANG STARTS PLANT ADDITION

Work has been started on an addition to the plant of Spang, Chalfant & Co. at Ambridge to cost about $1,000,000.

The plant will be used for the production of electrically-welded pipe. It will be the first installation of its kind in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

The plant will supply the newly-created market for light weight electrically-welded pipe for long distance oil and gas pipe lines. It will supplement the existing facilities of Spang, Chalfant for the production of seamless and mechanically-welded pipe.

The project is the first major piece of industrial construction to be undertaken in Pittsburgh during the present year.

Edison Visions, Doctor Doubts 10 More Years

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 6.—(INS.)—Thomas A. Edison, famous inventor, ill at his home here today told his personal physician that he believed he would live for at least 10 years more, provided I pass the present illness.

Edison, according to Dr. Hubert S. Howe, his physician, has a theory that when a man reaches the vicinity of 82, the inventor is 84, and is stricken with a serious illness and then recovers that he is likely to live at least 10 years more. Dr. Howe quoted Mr. Edison as saying:

"My friend Rockefeller seems to have passed these dangerous stages successfully. I feel if he can do it, I can."

Dr. Howe declared that the aged inventor was not out of danger. He said that uremic poisoning might reach Mr. Edison's heart at any time and cause sudden death. He explained that the nurses in constant attendance on Mr. Edison had been instructed fully on emergency measures to be taken if symptoms of heart failure are noted.

Both were sworn out in Washington, and given state police for service.

The Foundation proposed

Justice Frazer said, to appropriate $50,000 for the purpose, but desired the operators' advice first.

It would be a waste of money, the coal men answered. There is nothing to investigate, they said; there is no secret as to what is the matter with coal—it is overproduction.

RACKETEERS' LINK IN POLITICS HERE SCORED BY HOUSTON

SUPPORT MUST BE PAID FOR, HE WARNS

Underworld's Interest in Success of Prosecutor, Judge Candidates Cited

A stirring indictment of Pittsburgh racketeers' "sinister interest in the selection of prosecuting attorneys and judges" was made by John D. Houston, wholesale grocer, today on the William Randolph Hearst editorial in last Sunday's Sun-Telegraph protesting against the crime wave sweeping America.

The support of these "local politicians who have been shown to be indulging in questionable practices," Houston said, must be paid for. The expected payment can be nothing he declared, but toleration of illegal activities yielding enormous profits at the expense of the public.

He pleaded for a patriot to curb gangdom backed by a public with "more than the courage of a rabbit."

STARTED FOOD PROBE

Houston is credited with causing the investigation of city purchases which recently resulted in the indictment of Mayor Charles H. Kline and ousted Director of Supplies Bertram D. Sucrop on charges of misdirection of the Department of Supplies.

The Hearst editorial upon which Houston commented called attention to lack of co-operation by federal, state and municipal authorities in battling the organized forces of vice. Deportation of criminal aliens and ousting of public officials allied with the gangs was demanded.

Judge Sara M. Soffel of County Court also joined the forces in support of the Hearst stand, today.

PATRIOT NEEDED

Houston's statement:

"Mr. Hearst's stirring pronouncement against gangdom and its rule should be considered soberly by every lover of his country. As I see it, the foundation of gang success is cheating at elections. The perpetuation of a government by the people is predicated on an honest ballot. Election frauds are the worst form of treason though, unhappily, they are lightly punished by too many judges who are willingly or unwillingly the beneficiaries of the system.

"The sinister interest in the selection of prosecuting attorneys and judges, displayed by local politicians who have been shown to be indulging in questionable practices should arouse a storm of public protest. Their support must be paid for, and the expected reward from the District Attorney and the judiciary is hands off the illegal practices which yield a kingly revenue and, at the same time, debauch and impoverish our citizens. The effronters of some who apparently dominate city rackets in seeking to extend their sphere of influence by securing counts public offices is a challenge to decency.

"Mr. Hearst is right in saying that we already have the laws and the machinery to curb and destroy gangdom. What we lack is some patriot to set the machinery in motion and back of him a citizenry with something more than the courage of a rabbit."

GREATEST PROBLEM

Judge Soffel said:

"The Hearst editorial, calling upon the federal and state governments to co-operate in ending lawlessness, is to be highly commended. The greatest problem before the American people today is the prevention of crime. The solution of this problem challenges the interest and thought of all good citizens.

"There is need for courageous, fearless leadership on the part of those intrusted with public office. The people must be aroused to the menace inherent in failure to respect, observe and enforce the law.

"By acting swiftly and imposing penalties adequate to the crime, the courts can do their part in dispensing justice that knows no favorites and treats all wrongdoers alike."

DEAF CHILDREN GIVE SAVINGS TO FIRE FUND

Themselves in Need, De Paul Inmates Contribute $25 To Nuns for Aid of Aged

Four children, accompanied by Sister Emmanuel and Sister Teresa Vincent from the De Paul Institute for the Deaf, today presented Mother Agatha, assistant mother superior of Little Sisters of the Poor, a contribution of $25.

The contribution represents sacrifices on the part of the 141 children in the school, sisters say. Although Bishop Hugh C. Boyle has ordered a Diocesan collection for De Paul Institute to relieve their desperate financial condition, the children each gave a share of his or her small savings to express their sympathy to the Little Sisters of the Poor.

Robert Scherer, 11, of 321 Rochelle street, Knoxville, presented the money to Mother Agatha with a little speech he had painstakingly prepared. He said:

"Dear Mother: We are sorry that fire destroyed your home for the Old People. The deaf children are poor, too, but we want to help you. We hope everyone will help you to build a new home for the Old People."

Three other children from the school accompanied Robert. They are Alma Jena Farrell, 8, of 805 Southern avenue; Marie Smola, 13, of 74 Luella street, and Mary Veronica Barrett, 12, of 7351 Hamilton avenue.

The children were warmly thanked by Mother Agatha and Mother Augustine, mother provincial from Baltimore.

BUTLER QUITS MARINES OCT. 1

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The spectacular career of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler will terminate in the Marine Corps October 1.

The Quaker soldier who holds two Congressional Medals of Honor and who recently caused the United States government to apologize to Premier Mussolini of Italy because of some of his remarks, has asked for 30 days' leave of absence prior to his retirement on that date.

The request was submitted yesterday to Maj. Gen. Ben H. Fuller, commandant of the Marine Corps, and came from Quantico, Va., where Butler is commanding the Marine base. Butler has served a third of a century in the corps, which he joined during the Spanish-American War at the age of 16.

2 PATROLMEN GIVE REWARD TO WIDOW

Yield Share of Donohoe's $1,000 That Family of Pal May Be Taken Care of

A policeman's widow, Mrs. John Keenan, walked out of Supt. of Police Peter P. Walsh's office today—her eyes swollen with tears and in her hand a slip of paper.

The paper was a check for $1,000, a reward given by P. J. Donohoe, Pittsburgh merchant.

Eight months ago John Keenan died leaving four children, three in school. He had walked the market house beat downtown for 17 years.

Returning home from mass on Sunday morning he walked into the Grand Hotel and saw a man shaving. He noticed that the man was shaving with new equipment. He thought of the drug store holdups, walked to the station and sought Patrolmen Hugh Lavery and Jack Dillon. They arrested the man and four others now serving penitentiary terms. Organized robberies for the time were smashed.

Today Mrs. Keenan and a son, Thomas F. Keenan, met Supt. Walsh. He told her that Patrolmen Lavery and Dillon had refused to take their share of the reward. He handed her the $1,000.

ACCUSE WOMAN IN RUM DEATH

One woman, a hotel keeper, was turned over to the Coroner and an alleged moonshine dispenser was held for court in North Side Police Station, the result of the death from alcohol of Gus Volmer, 46, of 1900 East Ohio street, on August 1.

Mrs. Dixie Dixon, 39, of 1902 East Ohio street, from whom Volmer is said to have obtained liquor, was turned over to the Coroner. Joe Rimondi, 29, of 1812 East Ohio street, from whom George Unger, 39, of 9 Troy street, and Oscar Lautz, 40, of 1821 Elbow street, Volmer's drinking companions, said they purchased liquor, was held for court charged with violating the Snyder act.

Unger testified that he and Lautz went behind a sign board to drink and met Volmer, who said:

"I bummed Dixie for a pint."

A search of the Dixon woman's place failed to reveal liquor, but police testified they found liquor in Rimondi's place.

FIRE DESTROYS CECIL PLANT

Fire which did damage estimated at $80,000 early today destroyed the two-story concrete plant of the Albert Packing Company at Cecil.

The blaze started from an undetermined source and was blazing briskly before firemen from Kirwan and Bridgeville arrived.

Handicapped by a lack of water the firemen were unable to check the flames and only with great difficulty kept them from spreading to the home of George Albert, president of the company, a few feet away.

A. W. Fausnaught, manager of the plant, estimated the loss at $80,000. He said an investigation would be started to determine the cause. Fausnaught said the plant had a capacity of 100 cattle and 100 hogs daily.

WILKINS STARTS PERILOUS TRIP TO ARCTIC

Crowd Cheers Nautilus Adventurers as Sub Begins Pole Journey

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS

Commander of the Wilkins-Ellsworth Trans-Arctic Submarine Expedition.

ABOARD SUBMARINE NAUTILUS EN ROUTE TO TROMSOE, NORWAY, Aug. 6.—The Nautilus braved the open Atlantic again last night and now that we are bearing northward towards Arctic waters we feel that our expedition under the ice to the North Pole has really begun.

Our friends and the Norwegian naval officers who have been our hosts for the past several days gave us a rousing send-off when the Nautilus slipped out of Bergen.

Pilot Breistol is in the conning tower. He will see our iron whale through to Tromsoe along the 800 miles of treacherous coastline to that Northern Norwegian port.

STORES CROWD SHIP

We began making preparations for the start at 8 a. m. Greenwich mean time, 4 a. m. Pittsburgh time, when both the submarine's engines were started up to charge our batteries for the long run. By 4 p. m. our crew had carried ashore the remainder of [illegible] clothing that [illegible] thus far and stored [illegible] warehouse for [illegible] will [illegible] in subs[illegible] the time comes for [illegible] the nearly woolens that we needed above the Arctic circle. This clothing, our provisions, and scientific equipment jam every available nut of space on our little ship.

The friends who lined the narrow deck of the Nautilus were put ashore and Capt. Sloan Danenhower gave the order to cast off. As we slipped away from the wharf the crowd assembled on the shore broke into nine rousing cheers.

DEPARTURE CHEERED

Commandant Moe, of the Bergen navy yard, Mrs. Sverdrup, Mrs. Danenhower and other friends and guests put out in a navy launch to follow the Nautilus toward the ocean.

Small craft of every description flocked about us, the occupants waving wildly and shouting "good luck."

Outside the inner harbor, the Nautilus stopped to pick up the movie photographer, who is going as far as Spitzbergen with us. At that time the commandant's boat bearing the ladies came alongside and toasts were drunk to all.

ROBERT SCHERER, 11 — MOTHER AGATHA — MOTHER AUGUSTINE

Master Robert, 321 Rochelle street, Knoxville, charge of the DePaul Institute for the Deaf, today on the steps of the fire-ruined Little Sisters of the Poor Home for the Aged, presenting the assistant superior with $25 raised by the institute's young charges for the rebuilding fund. Children, for whom a recent plea for financial aid was made, denied themselves luxuries. Mother Augustine, Baltimore nun, is Mother Provincial of the Order.

Dear Mother,

We are sorry that fire destroyed your home for the Old People. The deaf children are poor, too, but we want to help you. We hope everyone will help you to build a new home for the Old People.

AKRON UNIQUE AS WEAPON OF WARFARE

Builders Cite Great Speed And Safety Factors of Giant New Dirigible

AKRON, O., Aug. 6 (AP).—Unusual ability as a weapon of warfare, to evade pursuit and escape serious damage from enemy bombardment, is claimed for the Navy's dirigible Akron, which will be christened by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President, here Saturday.

The ship is built to be flown into the region of conflict with the protection of five fighting planes swung on monorails in its giant hull. The planes can be launched quickly by dropping them through a hatchway.

The ship is designed to give a swift pair of heels to any plane that might try to follow it. With its eight large Maybach engines generating 4,850 horsepower, the Akron can race 7,000 feet a minute while making a forward speed of 80 miles an hour.

According to its builders this is faster than any pursuit plane can come.

With its inert helium as the lifting gas, the dirigible is fortified against fire. The gas, contained in 12 cells, a large number of which would have to be punctured before the craft would lose resistance and fail.

The prisoners gave their names as Charles W. Sherk and Charles McDonald of New York and John Kalf of Bloomfield, N. J.

Record Is Claimed Here for Big Hollyhocks

Now comes James B. Carney, of 315 Cherry street, West Homestead to claim the world's greatest and tallest hollyhocks.

The tallest of his more than 100 stands 9 feet 6 inches in its stocking feet. Six others top the 9-foot mark with a few inches to spare.

Miss Catherine Smith of Cleveland, whose hollyhocks measured 7.1 feet, started all the fuss with her claim of the tallest in the world.

nominees and that the board should have some new blood.

ARMSTRONG'S RETORT

Armstrong replied with some heat that the board got new blood eight years ago. He referred evidently to his election as he reviewed the roads, bridges and tunnels built during his two terms. He also said:

"If new blood is to come to the Board of Commissioners, it should be tested first."

Coyne, who filed his nomination papers yesterday, and whose friends insist he and Armstrong will be the organization choices, told the luncheon that he favored limiting county improvements to projects actually needed and requiring 100 per cent efficiency from county employes.

During the day reports were current that a group of businessmen were conferring with W. L. Mellon, who returned to Pittsburgh yesterday, with the objective of having the latter insist on an Armstrong-Mansfield ticket. Attaches of Mellon's office said he was busy with personal business and that no political conferences were scheduled.

Organization leaders were expected to meet with Mellon tonight. It was said in unofficial conferences at the Courthouse today that a final conference on the party slate.

Nominating petitions for James P. Boorey, North Side lawyer, and Councilman John M. Phillips, both considered as sponsored by Mayor Charles H. Kline for council posts on the organization ticket, were circulated for signatures in police stations yesterday.

BRANDON FILES FOR COUNCIL

A. D. Brandon, former Morals Court magistrate, today filed a petition to have his name placed on the Republican primary ballots as a candidate for city council.

William Conner, former Register of Wills, filed for county treasurer. Monday is the last day for filing nomination petitions for the primaries.

Petitions to have Dr. James P. Kerr's name placed on the Republican primary ballot as a candidate to succeed himself as city controller were filed yesterday.

Nominating petitions for City Council were filed yesterday by the Rev. Arthur A. V. Hightower, Negro clergyman, and Walter S. Straub. Harry H. Kunde filed nominating petitions for director of the poor.

STATE FIRES 16 ATTORNEYS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—Dismissal of four attorneys in Pittsburgh, one in Washington County, and 11 in other parts of the state as part of the reorganization of the state Department of Justice was announced today by William A. Schnader, attorney general.

The Pittsburgh attorneys are Howard Neely, H. Stanley Douglass, Alex Cooper and W. G. Saul, Jr., who had handled work here on a fee basis. R. W. Peacock, in Washington, also was let out as of August 1.

Schnader said a deputy attorney general for each county would be named next month.

Attorney Howard Neely is one of Senator James J. Coyne's associates and Fourth Ward Chairman Saul is a follower of Senator Morris Einstein. All are considered administration supporters.

Candidate Coleman Injured by Fall

W. H. Coleman, candidate for judge of Common Pleas Court, is confined to his home, 2405 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, it was revealed today. Coleman slipped in the entrance to the basement of his home Saturday, breaking a small bone in his foot and injuring his leg.

He will not be able to take an active part in his campaign for about 10 days, friends said.

RICH, BUT FACES PAUPER GRAVE

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (AP)—A woman once a noted figure who bowed before Queen Victoria at the court of St. James may be carried in potter's field despite the presence of a $100,000 vault of her fortune in her coffin. She valued it at $100,000, others said it was worth $20,000.

She was Miss Lucinda C. Fay, aged 65, who with Time as a metal worker and manipulator especially fit her for the art of what was described as a lost Egyptian art of the production of an iridescent surface on copper, as was done in the days of the Pharaohs, who died in a hospital yesterday after a protracted illness.

The jewelry cannot be sold for the burial expenses as it is a part of her estate which must be kept intact until otherwise directed in court.

ARTILLERYMEN USE BIG GUNS

TOBYHANNA, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP)—For the first time since their arrival Saturday, members of the 108th and 109th Field Artillery, Pennsylvania National Guard, engaged in actual service practice with 155 millimeter guns yesterday.

The first battalion of the 108th under the command of Maj. Theodore S. Paul and the second commanded by Maj. Edward Hubbs took the trail with their tractors and caissons and went to different firing places to train guns on the targets from three to six miles away.

The preliminary details were made with a network of telephone communications connecting all positions and the commanding posts being set up. The system to meet any emergency included switchboards, sets and hundreds of feet of wire.

Curley Would Lend U. S. Wheat to China

BOSTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Mayor James M. Curley sent to the Massachusetts congressional delegation an appeal to sponsor a special act to permit the United States to lend its surplus wheat crops to China. The Mayor said he had been informed recently by Chairman James C. Stone that the Federal Farm Board favored such a plan, which however would require a special act of Congress.

Who's Got Shoes Of Golfing State Senator?

State Senator Joseph G. Armstrong, Jr., was minus a pair of shoes today while constables in Fayette County were searching for a Negro who is wearing the official's footwear. The shoes were stolen while Senator Armstrong enjoyed a game of golf near Uniontown.

A constable, who learned of the theft, arrested Herbert Habit and Habit, the constable said, admitted taking the shoes. Habit told the constable, the latter said, that the shoes did not fit him and that he sold them to a Negro who is the object of the officer's search.

PLANS PARLEY ON GAS LINES

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6 (AP). — A policy to govern extension of pipe lines to carry natural gas from newly developed Pennsylvania fields into eastern regions will be discussed at a conference presiding to Richard J. Beamish, secretary of the commonwealth.

Beamish has withheld issuance of a charter of the Wyoming Gas Company, which he claims is a subsidiary of the Scranton Spring Brook Water Company and intends to retail natural rather than manufactured gas. Beamish also opposes introduction of natural gas into the anthracite field.

MAJOR'S DEATH HELD SUICIDE

CROMWELL, Conn., Aug. 6 (AP). — Dr. Walter Nelson, medical examiner, gave probable suicide as the cause of death of Major Benjamin H. Adams, 67, retired United States Army officer, whose body was found in a meadow on the banks of the Connecticut River yesterday. Maj. Adams, New York social registrite, disappeared July 21.

The condition of the body prevented a definite finding by attendants. The probable suicide theory grew out of the discovery of what appeared to be a large clot of blood on the side of the head. The discovery of a razor flatted with what was believed to be blood in a pocket and the discovery of similar stains in a nearby locker.

Officials had learned no motive for suicide.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, pills, water or laxative ready to clean you and relieve constipation. Make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

But they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement does not get at the cause. The cause for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a dizzy, bad taste and your breath is foul; your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. © 1931, Carter Medicine Company.

Small Tuner says he has his own idea as to what's the matter with the stock market, that being that there is so much bull that investors can't bear it.

The cast of principals for Cecil A. MAURICE CHEVALIER in "THE SMILING LIEUTENANT"

With CLAUDETTE COLBERT, CHARLIE RUGGLES, MIRIAM HOPKINS. Music by OSCAR STRAUS

THINK of all the things you'd like to have gay Maurice say and do and there you have "The Smiling Lieutenant." New York went crazy over it for weeks and weeks and you will too. It's refreshing as a breeze—light, gay, maybe a bit daring and certainly full of surprises. The cast couldn't be improved on and you know you can always expect something different in a picture directed by Lubitsch. By all means, see it. You'll go out of the theatre feeling happy as a lark, a sparkle in your eyes, a song in your heart. "If it's a Paramount Picture it's the best show in town!"

Arctic Trip In Hearst News

THE GLOBE TROTTER

Hearst Metrotone News, showing in the Penn and other theaters, presents the only pictures in sight and sound made aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its trip to the frozen North. The first of these are shown in the current issue with a description by the Globe Trotter. Other pictures of the flight will be presented in later issues. Robert Hartmann, Hearst Metrotone News cameraman, who has flown on every trip made by the Zeppelin, was aboard as usual on this flight to the ice fields of the North. He was the only cameraman aboard.

Hearst Metrotone News also shows the great army of grasshoppers that laid waste the thousands of acres of land and destroyed crops worth millions of dollars in the Mid-West. There are exceptional scenes of the grasshoppers as they do their deadly work.

Helen Wills Moody is seen in a thrilling tennis match with her rival Californian, Helen Jacobs, at Seabright, N. J. The former Miss Wills displays her ability as she whitewashes her opponent in straight sets.

The longest bicycle race ever held comes to an end in the Paris stadium when 40 pedallers return to the capital after a grueling ride through Switzerland. When the racers started there were more than 100 of them.

Plans have been laid to acquire planning in California. Homer Snowhead of the Oakland Museum has taught his pet a lesson or two as a calf is induced in the sport. Spectators see the lad and his master riding the amphibian board and finally swimming back to a pedestrian steal.

New speed records for anti-aircraft firing are made by Uncle Sam's artillery men at Fort Monroe, Va., and graphically pictured in Hearst Metrotone News.

From Paris comes a picture showing railway cars, equipped with rubber tires, being tried out with success. The cars are run by gasoline and are much like the motor coaches of American highways.

Wealth

The scene is from "Laugh and Get Rich," featuring Edna May Oliver. It opens Saturday in the Harris.

NEW GOODWILL HOME STARTED

A row of buildings along Liberty avenue from Twenty-eighth street was razed by the Goodwill Industries and Benefits, building and material supply store, as the first step toward the erection of a modern fireproof building, it was announced today.

With the exception of the Goodwill factory, the various activities of the Goodwill Industries will be housed in a single building.

Contract for the construction of the new building has been awarded and it is expected to be completed during November. The Rev. Albert G. Curry is director of the organization.

$60,000 Distributed Under Two Wills

Edward Fried of the Allegheny County Apartments left his $15,000 estate to his wife, Emma Fried, by his will probated in the register's office.

Joseph A. Schleimtzauer left half of his $75,000 estate to his wife, Ellen, and the other half to his brothers, William J. and Charles M., and a sister, Mrs. P. J. Callaghan.

Married 32 Years, Wife Asks Divorce

Dissolution of a marriage contracted 32 years ago was asked in Common Pleas Court by Mrs. Emma C. Ways of 2303 Woodstock avenue, Swissvale, who asked a divorce from Frank J. Ways, of 221 North Highland avenue, on the grounds of cruelty and indignities. They were married April 11, 1899.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Well, some people's hard luck is another feller's Good Break. . . . The crack-up of the round-the-world plane saved Lloyds from having to pay a bet to Mr. Herndon. . . . If he had been on the Post-Gatty record Lloyds would have lost $500,000. . . . That Sylvia Sidney person looks much better since she shelled that ex-husband. . . . Funny how one's luck changes. . . . When they were making tests for Harry Richman's picture "Puttin' On The Ritz," Joseph M. Schenck turned Sylvia's test down. . . . She just finished making a flicker for Schenck who paid her a mere $2,500 per week.

Wonder why there isn't a law making workers work at nights instead of days during June, July and August? . . . It is so much more pleasant to do your stint without having to combat the torrid spell too. . . . Poor Mavis King. . . . The heroine of all those night club brawls. . . . I wish she just phoned, "you'd say something in the paper about me being at Flower Hospital and that none of my so-called friends have given me a break just when I need it!"

Maybe that's why Ethel Merman doesn't waste her oil and gas on her car and has $100,000 in all those banks after 22 months of warbling ditties. . . . It must be grand to feel so secure. . . . And not have to depend on anyone. . . . Say! A lotta people would like to help others, but just cannot afford to. . . . But when one has the chance to make room, it's wise to save it. . . . Buy Now! . . . my eye. . . . But what you need and stop putting on a front. . . . Nothing recedes like success.

There's Harry Delbon, for instance. . . . When Coney Island was the Place To Go To, Harry was foremost if not the first among the Josh Comics. . . . He was very amusing with his dialect fable. . . . And probably still is, for that matter. . . . They say he is waiting on tables in one of the local laughing soup emporiums. . . . Ha! That's better than what most of those loafers do all day and most of the night. . . . I mean those lads who lean against corner buildings to keep them from falling down. . . . Funny tale they tell about Al Jolson. . . . How he argued about visiting any of the cafes because he was always called on to sing a ditty. . . . He patronized one of the shore places some time ago and told the management that if they called on him he never would set a paw in the place so long as he lived. . . . For once a cafe management kept its word. . . . It didn't even announce Jolson for the usual reception. . . . After an hour Jolson couldn't stand it any longer. . . . He got up and sang 12 songs.

It is interesting meeting a boy like Louis Adlon's Junior. . . . He tells you that he is 24 but of course he looks like 14. . . . His papa owns the Adlon Hotel in Berlin and other elegant hostelries which the lad will inherit one presumes. . . . But he isn't the sort of kid who's counting it on the old gent's name. . . . He came here to learn our language a few years ago. . . . And has continental manners. . . . He kisses the hands of the ladies when he is introduced and when he takes his departure. . . . The American gals like it. . . . He may contract with the new Waldorf-Astoria as an assistant manager or something. . . . He has been here learning the hotel business, if any. . . . And instead of starting as a manager or clerk he started in the Horatio Alger manner—down in the kitchen washing plates. . . . Nice boy. . . . Except one thing. . . . He carries cards bearing his name which you can't destroy by tearing. . . . They are made of linen. . . . Nothing makes me more irritable especially in this sort of weather than getting a card that I cannot tear up as soon as the waiter's back is turned. . . . Wish I was a lawyer like Jimmy Walker. . . . So I could wear baby blue pants like he wore the other night. . . . What a Daddy he is. . . . Chatterbug.

One of the roadhouse managements wants to donate 50 per cent of the evening's receipts to the family of the baby that was murdered by gangsters. . . . That's splendid. . . . I'll take any contribution any roadhouse or cafe wants to donate to that family. . . . Or for that matter, if any reader wants to contribute. . . . Wonder if it is true that the Capitol Theater plus all Loew houses will not all hold-headed men from employment? . . . And that all men over 40 will be aired? . . . What sort of a gag is that? . . . What some of the papers should play up is the fact that the Greater New York Gospel Mission down on 8th Street served 30,000 free meals last month. . . . And that their peak during the winter was 25,000. . . . It was Dumas who thought that to be rich enough a man had to be too rich. . . . I mustn't forget that the next time we make the rounds digging coin for this fund or that one to go where there is sure to be money—at the gaming tables. . . . Gamblers are so superstitious. . . . They feel luckier if they donate some of the currency to a Cause. . . . Hmmm, there's an idea!

It is exciting to read or write about Lou Holtz's success. . . . He only developed himself in the past season, it seems. . . . Now he enjoys the prestige of a star who is guaranteed to pack houses—even when the humidity is most stifling. . . . A year ago Holtz was amusing, but he never was certain of himself. . . . True, he was a Somebody in the musical comedy temples, but he belonged with the field of funny fellers—hardly the tall-priced favorites. . . . Then something happened—the best thing that could have happened to a chap who, in his youth, was almost a millionaire. . . . He lost all that terrific money toying with Wall street. . . . Then he had to find work so he could eat. . . . When his stocks were leaping and bringing in tremendous profits Holtz couldn't be inspired to get comical or even want to work. . . . Why work for $2,000 a week when you could make more than that when your stocks jumped? . . . In fewer words, he had to go broke before he could finger money again. . . . His ambitions were aroused, he got desperate. . . . And boff! went the Broadway heavens.

Leave it to some racketeers to get away with their stuff even in jails. . . . The other weekend when one of the U. S. Bank officials was convicted he was put in the Tombs. . . . Where one chap approached him and said: "My wife lost $40 in that bank of yours!" . . . So frightened was the banker he gave the guy the $40. . . . Wonder how those gals can sit in speakeasies that long? . . . From 2 p. m. until 3 a. m.? . . . Anything to break the monotony, I presume, of being alone. . . . Must be just as monotonous listening to men talk about themselves. . . . Mebbe, no. . . . Just heard about a mean man who snapped the whip mercilessly for years on Broadway, who now is destitute. . . . Hurray! . . . I like that simile by Gene Tierney—the one that goes: "Conceited as a vaudevillain's ad in the theatrical journals." . . . Wish there was a show to see that I haven't seen. . . . Or a movie the book or play version of which I haven't witnessed. . . . Some of these days some mind is going to think up something different and get so rich. . . . Wish that some of those philanthropic newspapers which are wasting time offering rewards for the capture of gangsters, and solutions of murder mysteries, would offer a reward for a breeze.

United States Lines Offers Unacceptable

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP.)—Chairman T. V. O'Connor, of the Shipping Board, resumed his conferences yesterday on the disposition of the United States Lines, but said at the end of the meeting that "no one has yet submitted any offer that we can accept."

Asked about the attitude of the Shipping Board toward the sale of the United States Lines to a company operating foreign-flag vessels, O'Connor said that with certain provisions there would be no objection to such a sale. The vessels themselves, he said, must be kept under the American flag.

Bids for Munhall School Rejected

The Munhall Board of Education rejected 10 bids for the construction of the new $200,000 Hammett School on Woodlawn avenue as being "too high" and directed their architect, Adam G. Wickerham, to readvertise for proposals. The new building, financed through the issuance of bonds authorized by voters of Munhall recently, will be used jointly by the grade and junior high schools.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)
present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Hundreds of Thousands in U. S. A. Demand New Kind of Salts

Keeps You in Good Health All the Time Skin Clear and Body Free From Fat.

Just think of it—three new, perfect and different salts were now introduced into America—and yet a host of intelligent Americans are benefiting and have for years because of their superior goodness.

Kruschen salts are the daily health choice of millions of people the world over.

One half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning helps the liver, bowels and kidneys to healthy elimination.

But the six regenerating salts in Kruschen do more than cause regular elimination. The man or woman who takes them regularly need have little fear of pimples, blotches, the victim of the curse of hasty alibis, and depression.

One bottle of Kruschen costs a little more than a cup of coffee, but one bottle will prove to any reasonable person that Kruschen is worth more than its price in better health, more energy, more vigor and enthusiasm, more pep, more ambition, more joy in living, more friends, more success and freedom from pimples and indigestion and you'll be the first to tell all this and more to your friends.

Get a bottle of Kruschen today at any drug store in America. Money back if not delighted.

Test them any way you like —they're FRESH!

OPEN the Humidor Pack wrapped around Camels and smell the fresh fragrance of mild tobacco that greets your nostrils.

Make the same test with any other brand. You'll find there's no comparison.

Savor the mild, cool smoke of Camels, see how satisfying and throat-friendly it is, how rich in smoke-pleasure.

Contrast its aromatic, dust-free goodness with the brash taste and bite-and-burn of harsh, parched-dry tobaccos. Then you'll see what freshness really means!

Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos so choice they need no parching to make them palatable—made fine they are kept fine by the Humidor Pack.

This scientific germ-safe wrapping—not plain ordinary Cellophane, but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much—seals in all the natural aroma and freshness, seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

Test Camels any way you like—you'll find them milder, cooler, more enjoyable, fresh!

As a favor to your throat switch to Camels for just one day, then leave them—if you can.

Tune in CAMEL QUARTER HOUR featuring Morton Downey and Tony Wons—Columbia Broadcasting System—every night except Sunday

Smoke a FRESH cigarette

It's more the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. It does leave fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked.

Use KLEENEX disposable tissues instead

Safer and remarkably inexpensive . . . Kleenex costs so little that no woman need wash soiled handkerchiefs.

PLEASE read this advertisement and see if you can think of a single reason why you should continue to wash handkerchiefs.

Kleenex costs less. You can buy a whole package of Kleenex for the price of a handkerchief. You'll find Kleenex softer and gentler than any handkerchief. It never irritates. And you have a dry, soft tissue every time—which means a great deal in comfort during colds and hay fever.

Use and destroy

Due to the low cost, you use each tissue only once. Immediately after use, you destroy each tissue and all the germs it contains. Compare this cleanly habit with the handkerchief that's used over and over. You will understand why Kleenex is endorsed by health authorities, doctors, nurses, teachers.

With all these advantages over handkerchiefs, is there any slightest reason why you should continue to wash soiled, repulsive handkerchiefs? Thousands of other women have said NO. Join them. Buy a package of Kleenex today.

Try Kleenex for removing face creams. Authorities say it's best, because Kleenex is so powerfully absorbent that it blots all impurities from the pores.

Many other uses

Use Kleenex for wiping spectacles and razor blades. For dusting and polishing. Mothers find Kleenex invaluable in caring for babies.

Kleenex is so enormously popular that any drug, dry goods or department store can supply you. The package is Cellophane-wrapped for perfect cleanliness. A convenient arrangement permits the tissues to be removed easily with one hand.

IF YOU HAVE HAY FEVER

You'll appreciate the softness and absorbency of Kleenex. Do not put up with using scratching handkerchiefs another day. It is impossible to describe the greater comfort of these dry, gentle, absorbent tissues. (And remember, Kleenex costs less than laundering.)

NEW

So engrossed are the radio rulers in greetings to visiting notable that they are concerning themselves with the summer silliness extreme even Lafayette in New York in 1824. And we've would have had Dare trouble in 1931. Lafayette's full name was Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert Du Motier de Lafayette. To Grover Whalen can be traced most the honor of the broadcasters. He more official greeting an art. The broadcasters still impressed are now leading Chicago Whalen. Col. George D. Gaw to the microphones. Gaw has something that even Whalen couldn't boast—a white limousine and white motorcycles for the police escort.

NOTE TO COFFEE PACKERS—Coffee packers desiring to employ General Foods Corporation method of packing Maxwell House Coffee should communicate with American Can Company, 230 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y., which is exclusively authorized to grant the right to use this method.

MAXWELL HOUSE announces the

VITA-FRESH PROCESS

Now for the first time a packing method which prevents Oxygen from robbing fine coffee of strength and flavor

This is one of the most important announcements in the history of packaged foods.

It not only means much in terms of new enjoyment to the lover of fine coffee, but it makes a luxury coffee a real economy.

With the introduction of the new Vita-Fresh Process, Maxwell House solves a problem that has baffled the coffee industry for years, the problem of preventing rapid deterioration caused by Oxygen, after roasting.

This greatly advanced new process enables the roasters of Maxwell House to guarantee you strictly fresh coffee at all times, wherever purchased.

Oxygen a greedy racketeer

Coffee flavor, you know, is highly perishable.

And Oxygen, a part of the very air we breathe, is its arch-enemy.

A greedy racketeer, Oxygen attacks coffee as soon as it comes from the roaster, stealing its strength, hijacking its flavor and robbing you of the very elements that put aroma and delight into your coffee cup.

Just read these amazing facts. These facts were established in a leading eastern university and were published in "Food Industries" (September, 1930).

1. Loose or bag coffee loses 65% of its flavor in 9 days after roasting.
2. Coffee in old-fashioned cans loses 45% of its flavor in a like period.

All due to the attack of Oxygen!

The Vita-Fresh Process An improved vacuum method

For many years Maxwell House has wrestled with this perplexing problem.

But not until the discovery of the Vita-Fresh Process has science been able to overcome the steady flavor loss due to Oxygen.

Vacuum packing, of course, was a great step forward.

But even that was not enough to satisfy our food chemists who for months now have been hot on the trail of an improved new method which would bring absolute protection.

Vacuum packing was far superior to old-fashioned methods because it withdrew part of the Oxygen from the can and prevented Oxygen from entering the package after sealing.

The new Vita-Fresh Process is a great advance over vacuum because it removes 90% of the Oxygen left in the can by the usual vacuum method.

In other words, Vita-Fresh Packing actually removes 99% of the air from the Maxwell House can.

According to every yardstick of science, this revolutionary new method is the most nearly perfect process ever developed to preserve the freshness and flavor of fine blended coffee.

The finest coffee now a real economy

If you are a connoisseur of fine coffee flavor, and have been vainly trying to lure the flavor of freshly roasted coffee into your coffee cup by using more than the standard proportions, then the economy of Vita-Fresh Maxwell House Coffee will appeal to you. For now you can use your old proportions for making coffee—yet have that inimitable coffee flavor heretofore impossible, regardless of proportions, unless you had roaster-fresh coffee.

For it can truthfully be stated that Maxwell House Coffee guarded by the Vita-Fresh Process captures and preserves for you the real flavor of freshly roasted coffee.

You judge at our risk

Please don't take our word for this statement. All we ask is that you make the flavor test yourself and be the exclusive judge.

Order a pound of Maxwell House at your grocer's. Prepare it in your usual way. Then if you and your family don't agree that it is the finest coffee you ever drank, if you don't find that you get extra flavor for your money in every pound, simply return the can with the unused portion and the grocer will gladly return your money.

Tech Star Hero Of Gun Battle With Bandits

Tech Grid Hero Thwarts Robbery

KARCIS, IN GUN FIGHT, SEIZES SUSPECT

Ex-Star, Now Policeman, Prevents Holdup of Park Messenger With $3,500

With a self styled dentist in custody, detectives sought his escaped accomplice in a gun battle and attempted theft of West View Park receipts early today in front of the Farmers Deposit National Bank, two blocks from the scene of a drug store robbery and murder 48 hours before.

The suspect captured by John Karcis, former Tech football star, is Clarence Hoseck, 34, of 1128 Province street. Hoseck, police say, served a term in the Western Penitentiary as leader of the bank gang that held up the Pittsburgh Natatorium about seven years ago.

SUSPECTS HELD

Hoseck at a hearing today before Magistrate Leo Holtzenberg in Central police court, gave his occupation as a dental physician. He admitted owning the revolver used in the holdup. Hoseck and two accomplices arrested while speaking to him immediately after his capture, Harry Schake, 22, of 212 Redman street, and Gerald Cooke, 22, of Sherman street, Mt. Oliver, were held over.

Karcis, employed at the park as a policeman, was walking behind I. J. Murphy, of 311 Halket street, the park manager, and John T. Wilson, a clerk, of 716 St. James street, whom he had accompanied from the park to their general offices in the bank building. As Murphy and Wilson were about to enter the lobby of the building, Hoseck, according to police, confronted them with a revolver. Near a sedan parked in front of the building stood Hoseck's companion, holding a revolver.

KARCIS DRAWS GUN

Hoseck was alleged to have snatched the bag, containing between $2,500 and $3,500 in cash, from Wilson, and tossed it into the sedan. As he ran to the machine, Karcis, his revolver drawn, ordered him to halt.

Hoseck cried:

"Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

With the cry he threw his revolver into the automobile. The accomplice then opened fire on Karcis and turned and ran. Deputy Sheriff Herbert Reel, standing across the street, ran to Karcis' aid and at his heels were Plainclothesmen Thomas Delehanty and John Flavin and Patrolman Thomas Lawrence. Karcis fired three shots at the fleeing thug, but he escaped.

LINKED WITH GANG

Turnkey John A. Beck, at Central Police Station, was the first to connect Hoseck with the bandit gang that robbed the Natatorium.

Hoseck, police reported, said that he and his pal had trailed the park employes for three days. They had planned to stage the holdup Tuesday, but because it was the outing of the North Side Board of Trade at the park that day, Hoseck said the robbery was postponed for a day, according to police.

Detectives continued search for suspects in the murder of Harry Seigal, assistant manager of the Walgreen Drug Store, Sixth avenue and Wood street, during a holdup by a Negro early Tuesday. A Negro seen walking back and forth near the store was arrested today. He said he wanted to buy soap.

WILKINS TWP. ASSESSMENTS ATTACKED

Small Land Owner Under Exhorbitant Burden, Mass Meeting Told by Leaders

Wilkins Township today labors under the burden of unequal assessments and exorbitant taxation of the small landholder, according to leaders in its tax protest movement.

Instances were brought out last night at a meeting which started in the Gray School, Church Hill road at a discussion of the single tax theory and ended in a free-for-all protest, especially against Assessor P. J. Fallon.

The meeting was the fourth of a series addressed by Attorney William N. McNair, a proponent of the single tax idea.

FALLON HECKLED

As McNair closed his arguments, Fallon walked into the room, filled by about 200 persons. Small land owners, unemployed workers, tradesmen, housekeepers and businessmen turned to heckling the assessor.

Andrew A. McKeever, township treasurer and candidate for county treasurer, read facts and figures of property assessments. Township Commissioner C. E. Branfass interrupted in confirmation frequently, with Chairman B. H. Goodwin keeping peace or injecting remarks.

It was shown that some township property is assessed at approximately 60 per cent of its value, while other is taxed on only about 20 per cent of its value. The meeting protested this inequality, with Fallon claiming it was the only way to keep residents in the township.

The next meeting was set for Wednesday evening, August 26, at the Fire Hall, Brown avenue, Wilkins Township.

WOMAN ON TRIP TO STUDIO DIES

One of the promises Mrs. Clara McGarry, 65, of 2243 Peekskill street, North Side, made to her granddaughters when they arrived for a visit was a trip to a radio studio.

Late yesterday Mrs. McGarry and her granddaughters, Mildred McGarry, 16, of Caldwell, O., and Doris Cleveland, of Summerfield, O., were walking through a downtown store to the studio when Mrs. McGarry collapsed. She was pronounced dead from a heart attack.

Funeral services for Mrs. McGarry, who was a widow, will be held from the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Huston, of Sharon, O.

At the offices of the company it was stated the fire started in one of the units where chemicals used in making auto paint was being manufactured, but the cause has not been determined.

CRUISING HELD NECESSARY TO PROFITS

Application for Permit by New Company Opposed; Witness Favors Monopoly

Paul J. Houston, president of the Yellow Green taxicabs, today testified before Public Service Commissioner Samuel Walker, Jr., that the entrance of a new cab company would create chaos in the downtown —in the event 200 or more cabs are operated here.

He was forced, however, to modify the claim when cross-questioned by Attorney Charles B. Prichard, counsel for the Peoples Blue Taxicab Company, which is seeking permission to operate and break the Yellow-Green monopoly.

Houston, testifying at the hearing in the City-County building, said in answer to Prichard that his company would not have all its 600 cabs on the downtown, but that they were to be used throughout the city.

He deprecated the claim of the Peoples that if granted a permit, they would not permit "cruising," saying:

"Cab drivers work on a percentage basis and cruising means that business is slow and they are out to get some. To give the cab drivers his wage and net the company a return a cab should earn $11.50 a day. In June here, we planned taking 250 cabs off the street. There were that many not needed, but the labor situation prevented it."

M. W. Cooke, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh Railways company, last witness at yesterday's session, testified that he believed the cab company should maintain its monopoly and that all similar monopolies should be protected.

Man, Woman Held In Morals Charge

Mrs. Rose Fisher, 46, of Ross Township, and Louis M. Gray, 70, of 2131 Brighton road, were held for court on serious charges by Magistrate Thomas D. Jones in Morals Court today. The couple were arrested in a Sixth avenue hotel by police on complaint of the woman's husband, John Fisher, 56.

Lone Robber Gets $18 at Chain Store

A lone Negro robber forced Manager Regis Manning, of an Atlantic and Pacific store at 2123 Wylie avenue into a rear room today and escaped with $18 from the cash register. The Negro was armed.

FALL ON STICK INJURES BOY

His lung punctured by a stick on which he fell while playing in the rear of his home, 8-year-old Charles Rettinger, of 17 Boggs avenue, today was fighting for his life in his home. Anxiously awaiting his recovery are his friends, Charles Kennedy, 7, of 23 Boggs avenue, and Selma and Leatrice Chambers, aged 9 and 3, respectively, of 15 Boggs avenue.

The Rettinger boy was taken to the South Side Hospital last night, where it was determined that the stick had pierced his left lung. Several hours later he was taken home, although his condition is regarded as serious.

Two highwaymen were being sought today for the robberies early this morning of James Miller, of Morgantown, W. Va. Miller was robbed by thugs, who stopped him as he was walking along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the Duquesne Incline, West Carson street. The robbers obtained $2.75.

8-Hour Sleep Did Wonders For Mr. Edison

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Tom Edison slept eight hours the other night and is good for another 85 years.

That's the most sleep the lad has knocked off since Marc Antony installed that dictaphone in Cleopatra's tent.

The huddled doctors said that Tom must give up work. But that's like telling a Kansas grasshopper to reverse his gears.

He hopped out of bed, smacked a grapefruit in the face with a big spoon, ran down a flight of steps and was working quicker than you can say business is getting better.

He did all that while the doctors were trying to detail the symptoms with the diagnosis. Maybe the doctors are responsible for the depression.

The only way a bedside statistician can assume control is to tell the patient not to work. One doctor and a thousand people a week say a thousand doctors can't stop everybody from coming to the office.

Why doesn't the Wickersham committee investigate the situation and add the report to their child's book of knowledge?

WILL ROGERS SAYS

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.
Aug. 6.

Say, these wars is getting to be tough. I had no more than got home from the battle of Red River with my old commanding general (I am a colonel on the staff of Bill Murray) after we had licked Texas and "made bridges free for Oklahomans" to cross (even if they had no business on the other side) when my old general calls me back into the trenches. (Let's see, who we are fighting this week?) Oh, yes! The Standard Oil and the octopuses. We want $1 oil and we ain't going to quit shooting 'till we get it. Old Bill has been right every time and I am still with him. Next week we are going to fight for 70-cent wheat.

Yours, WILL.

Borough Suspends, Fires And Re-Hires Policeman

Patrolman Daniel Muir, of the Turtle Creek police force, was hired, fired and suspended, all at a single session of Council last night.

A motion to suspend Patrolman Muir for two weeks for conduct unbecoming an officer was made by W. H. Miller, chairman of the police committee, following the unofficial suspension of the officer since July 30. Then it was discovered that the conduct of the police force is solely up to the burgess.

Stumped by lack of authority, Council decided, after legal study, that it would have to fire Muir in order to mete out the two weeks' punishment. This it did.

Not wishing to make it permanent, a motion was made to reinstate him at the termination of the suspension. Again it was discovered that this wasn't according to law, so the councilmen proceeded to an election of an officer.

A motion was made to hire Patrolman Muir. It passed and the officer still has his job—at the conclusion of his suspension.

LAWYER LAUDS JUDGE SOFFEL

Judge Soffel has been very successful as a trial judge in the conduct of jurs and other cases before her. She has been uniformly courteous forbearing and firm with litigants lawyers and witnesses appearing before her and the record which she has established of efficiency in her court marks her high among the judges of this commonwealth.

There should be no political demonstrations in the parade that will precede the dedication. It would be bad taste to display political cards or other propaganda. This celebration is to be one of appreciation for the work the county has done on the two projects.

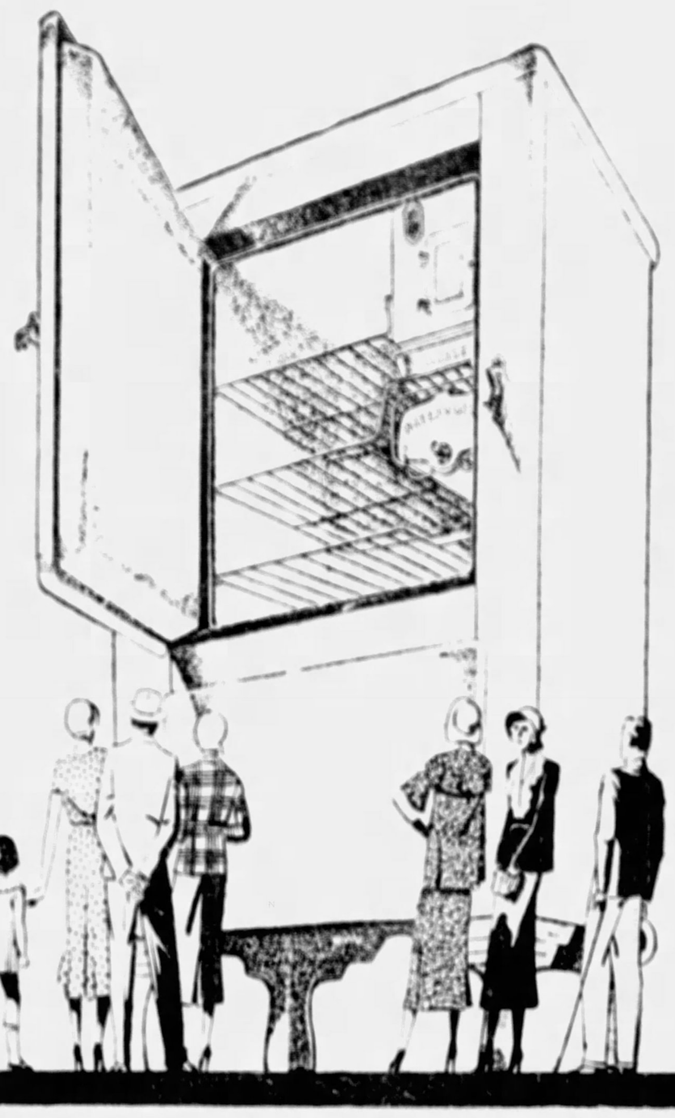
NORGE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR



Unless you can afford to experiment

see the NORGE before you buy

THE ROLLATOR

An electric refrigerator is not a casual purchase. You don't expect to trade it in on a new one in a year or two. You expect it to keep on doing its good work indefinitely...a lifetime.

Norge is, unquestionably, the lifetime refrigerator. Its cabinet is constructed and finished for endurance. Its design and arrangement is so carefully considered that you'll wonder if it could be improved. And as for the Norge mechanism—

The Rollator—stout heart of the Norge—is almost everlasting...so simple in design that it has but three moving parts...so powerful that blistering heat has no effect on its freezing ability...so ingeniously designed that you don't see it, hear it or even think of it from one year's end to the next. Perhaps you're considering an electric refrigerator for your home. You'll want the one you can depend upon for years of faithful service. So, by all means, see the Norge before you buy.

Norge is manufactured by Norge Corporation, Detroit, Division of Borg-Warner Corporation, one of the world's largest makers of automotive parts, including free wheeling.

The Waterator keeps a gallon of chilled water on tap. Of crystal glass. It's easy to use, to fill and to keep clean. It is extra equipment...available for all models.

STUDEBAKER Splendor Cars

A Carnival of Custom Color!

BEGINNING AUGUST 9th

NO matter how important the development that Studebaker puts on the road, it always has something else on the fire. While the motor car industry is busy bringing its models up to date with Free Wheeling, Studebaker—the originator of Free Wheeling—has turned its attention to COLOR.

Heretofore you have had to show the color of your money to get special colors . . . but Studebaker now introduces a series of special colors at standard prices . . . not stock colors but custom colors . . . not mass production shades but class production selections!

Seal Brown, Totem Beige and Royal Mulberry . . . with belt mouldings of Maroon, Beaver or Studio Gray . . . fendered in harmonies or contrasts . . . wire-wheeled in Bronze, Gray or Cardinal . . . striped in Silver, Vermilion or Gold . . . every effect, the product of an expert in custom color combinations.

This great Studebaker event enables Studebaker to match either a temperament or a gown . . . and it enables you for the first time in your life to choose a custom color scheme that fits both your pocket and your personality.

Free Wheeling, Studebaker's great contribution to public safety and economy, is still first page news! . . . proved by the latest official exploit of three Studebaker Eights in the cross-continent run from New York to Seattle . . . their average saving of engine effort in 24,367 miles of Free Wheeling was 32%. Momentum carried these cars nearly a third of the way!

Even if you are not ready to buy a car you are urged to attend this great Studebaker Carnival of Color . . . to see what Studebaker offers you in these new Splendor Cars with Free Wheeling plus Free Color Schemes.

Fifteen Other Cars Have Adopted
free wheeling

Fifteen other cars have adopted Free Wheeling and others are fast coming to it, but obviously Free Wheeling pioneered by Studebaker is Free Wheeling in its finest form . . . first, because it is under positive gear control . . . second, because it is built in as an integral part of the mechanism . . . and finally because this greatest of all motor car "extras" involves no extra cost to you.

TO THE FATHER'S HOME

To all sons and daughters

whose filial sympathies are aroused by the suffering of gentle, penniless, homeless old men and women:

TODAY, right in our own city, we are confronted with one of the most pathetic tragedies in the history of our country. The frightful calamity that claimed the lives of forty-seven old men and women in the destruction of a wing of the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor has plunged the entire community into grief, and has aroused a wave of sympathy and sorrow throughout the country for the victims.

The Home of over two hundred old men and women, many of them handicapped by physical ailments and all with absolutely no financial means, has been destroyed. Forty-seven have already died; the majority are scattered throughout the hospitals that so generously threw open their doors to them; all suffering from burns, shock and smoke inhalation. Those who escaped injury must be housed and properly clothed immediately. The dead are being buried, the injured must be nursed back to health, and those who escaped unscathed must be given permanent shelter. Clothing must be provided for everybody, as all personal belongings were destroyed by the fire.

There are and always were only two requirements to enter the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor—old age and poverty. All creeds were welcome; the Home is non-sectarian.

The Little Sisters of the Poor, who operate the Home, are unable to help themselves or the old men and women who made their home with them, and a Relief Committee has volunteered to tell the people of Pittsburgh of the necessity of immediate relief and the desperate conditions that these dear old men and women face. Old age has always demanded our respect, love and sympathy. When coupled with poverty and the sudden loss of Home, it stirs the heart of each of us to contribute our share for the necessary relief. Please help these old men and women.

$300,000.00 is the minimum required for reconstruction with the necessary improvements. This community should gladly contribute this amount for its own, because it has always generously given to every cause when called upon, as in the case of the Japanese Earthquake and the Drought Relief in the Spring.

Kindly mail contributions to Little Sisters of the Poor Relief Committee, J. Dawson Callery, Treasurer, William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

STANDING OUT BEYOND any single feature of the present season or of many other seasons Lloyd Waner's amazing catch of Pepper Martin's fly in the tenth inning of the first game yesterday will linger long in baseball's memory. With two on and two out, the runs that would have broken the tie and given the Cards a victory were headed for the plate when the younger Waner stumbled and fell after backing to deep center for Martin's drive. But just as their hearts were sinking into their boots, the fans got the thrill of a lifetime to see Lloyd with the baseball instinct supermost, scramble half way to his feet desperately stretch out his hands and still partly lying on the ground, snatch the falling ball and then go down in a heap again.

THE YOUNGER WANER declared that he was equal to the task of running back 22 yards to make the first catch of comparable importance.

The latter went into the books on August 16, 1926, in the eighth inning of a pitchers' duel between Art Wills and Christy Mathewson with two out the score 2 to 2, rain falling in torrents and Forbes Field so dark that the electric lights had just been turned on in the grandstand.

JIM BOTTOMLEY did not break nor equal any records in making six hits in six times at bat during the second game here yesterday, as the topmark is seven hits in seven times up, set by Wilbert Robinson, present Brooklyn manager, while playing for Baltimore against St. Louis in the National League in the first game of a doubleheader on June 10, 1892. But Bottomley is only the second player ever to accomplish the six-in-six feat twice in the majors. He first did it on September 16, 1924. The only other players to do it twice were Ed Delahanty. The mark has been reached 45 times, but until yesterday it had not been done since Paul Waner added his name to the list on August 28, 1926. Wally Gilbert, of the Robins, made six hits in the second game of the Memorial Day ball against the Giants this year, but was at bat seven times.

IT'S ONE THING to say Maxie Rosenbloom is entitled to defend his 6 stake but it remains for the referee to decide whether he has successfully done so. Slattery got only another defeat, with Rosenbloom winning the decision and retaining the crown. Rosenbloom rivals Mickey Walker as the physical mystery of the ring game. The less attention he pays to his condition the better he fights.

THE TYPE OF [illegible] man stands a [illegible] 175 to 190 pounds.

Paul Collins

IN 1927, THE Pitt terminals were Donohoe and Andy Guarino. The latter was short and stocky, with much of his weight in his legs, and only his nimbleness of foot enabled him to snare passes from under the noses of rangy defensive backs. Paul Collins, who succeeded Guarino, has a more ideal build, yet is a little too bulky to be classed as the ideal end. Of his teammates this year, Capt. Eddie Hirshberg is of medium height and broad of shoulder. Ted Daily, understudy to Collins, is almost frail in appearance, being slight of build, in addition to being short. Skladany, Hirshberg's reserve, has a figure almost like Eddie's, the only difference being that he lacks an inch or so in height.

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY: "A SPIDER INHERITED A FORTUNE"—Mlle. Dupuy, an accomplished pianist of eccentric habits, left a considerable estate consisting of cash and two houses to her pet spider. "Its heirs and descendants in perpetuity." The spider she explained, "was her faithful companion and the only appreciative and tireless listener she ever had." In her lengthy testament, which abounds in comparisons between human and spiders' patience to the advantage of the latter, she gives the spider credit for her musical accomplishment. The French court waived the formality of a declaration of acceptance on the part of the fortunate arachnid. PAT BURNS' 3,000-POUND BIRTHDAY CAKE—When the town of Calgary, Canada, celebrated Patrick Burns' seventy-fifth birthday on July 6, 1931, a 3,000-pound cake was baked to provide 27,000 pieces for visitors to Calgary. The three-layer—or three-tier—cake had a base eight feet square and stood seven and one-half feet high. "LA MAYA — THE GIRL WHO FIGHTS MEN"—Margarita Montes, girl athlete of Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico, recently has taken up professional boxing and is succeeding very well at it, scoring 11 successive victories. She competes with male opponents and can more than hold her own with many of them, as her record of 11 straight victories indicates. She is not a clever defensive boxer, as one might think, but is the real slugger type, with a knockout wallop in either fist. She also is manager of a girls' baseball team and does all of the pitching herself.

BY CHARLES J. DOYLE

The Pittsburgh Pirates have signed on the dotted line of contract for the rest of the season. Yesterday the Bucs split a double bill with the Cardinals, winning the first game, 5 to 4, in the tenth inning on Pepper Martin's fly to Lloyd Waner, and losing the second game, 6 to 5, in the seventh inning when Jim Bottomley hit a home run with the bases filled. The Pirates are now in the midst of the most important series of the season, as the Cards are only two games behind the Pirates. The Cubs are three games behind the Cards, and the Giants are four games behind the Cubs. The Pirates have only seven games left to play with the Cardinals, and the Cubs have only six games left to play with the Cards. The Pirates have only seven games left to play with the Cubs. The Cubs have only six games left to play with the Giants. The Giants have only four games left to play with the Cubs. The Cubs have only six games left to play with the Cards. The Cards have only seven games left to play with the Pirates. The Pirates have only seven games left to play with the Cubs. The Cubs have only six games left to play with the Giants. The Giants have only four games left to play with the Cubs. The Cubs have only six games left to play with the Cards. The Cards have only seven games left to play with the Pirates.

KREMER TO HURL

Remo Kremer, the last pride of Joe and the Pirate hitters, is slated to draw the start assignment in the first game scheduled for this afternoon. Ethan Blackwell, who gave Cards fourteen a real scare in the second game yesterday, may oppose Kremer.

The series with the Cardinals came to a successful close with the two-game split in a doubleheader that was witnessed by a capacity spectator-set and Tuesday. The Bucs regain the first place after a lapse of two weeks of second of the season at the Oakland Orchard and there have been many shifting setups at the home of the Bucs this year.

The spectacle was [illegible] 12 innings, Larry French winning another great triumph that matches his eternal extra-inning battle with the Bucs not so long ago. The score was 5 to 4. The Redbirds overwhelmed the home team in the second game the count being 16 to 5.

First Rhem swapped pitches with French up to the twelfth, when the big right-hander had himself ejected from the scene by the manner of his protest of a called ball on George Grantham.

BOOTS STARTS RALLY

Grantham opened the twelfth for the Bucs. Rhem's first pitch was called a ball by Umpire Quigley. Both Catcher Mancuso and the pitcher protested, but Rhem lowered his chore in no end. The umpires are under instruction to toss players off the field for this little trick. The procedure is unfair, in the opinion of many people, but it is being done.

Jim Lindsey was rushed to the slabarn soon after Rhem received the office to vacate. Grantham scratched a hit off Rhem and then George swiped second. Pie Traynor tended to Bottomley, who made a late throw to third and both runners were safe. Manager Street ordered an intentional pass for P. Waner. Groskloss was due to face Lindsey with the bases filled, but Skipper Ens decided Jim Mosolf filled the picture in a more forceful way and Jim had it out with Lindsey. The latter had two strikes and no balls on Mosolf, when he threw four straight balls

Says Nick Altrock

—Baseball's Comedian—

EN ROUTE WEST, Aug. 6.—American League balls will be used in home games of the American League team in this year's world series and vice versa. That's all right as long as the National League winner don't ring in the Phillies' ball park along with the National League ball.

Nick Altrock

Of course the pennant races aren't settled yet, but it looks like a cinch for the Pennsylvania Railroad, which conducts stations in St. Louis and Philadelphia.

Only one thing makes me think the Cards and Athletics won't win this year's races, and that's because all the baseball experts said they would. When the experts are correct for one consecutive time, it's a moratorium or a miracle or something.

MAXIE WINS, KEEPS TITLE

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—Maxie Rosenbloom, [illegible] light heavyweight champion of the world, [illegible] Slattery, [illegible] keeping an engagement on short notice and scrambled through 15 acrobatic rounds with Jimmy Slattery to keep his hold on the world light-heavyweight boxing championship.

Although apparently in both ring players and see Maxie Rosenbloom went the limit and capped out a decisive victory over the Buffalo Irishman. The champion received the unanimous decision of Referee McFarland and the two judges after 15 monotonous rounds of ruffing and cuffing. There was not the slightest semblance of a knockdown and little action calculated to stir the enthusiasm of one of the smallest tournaments for any title fight in New York in years.

Fewer than 10,000 cash customers and perhaps not more than 5,000 gave the big field a semi-deserted appearance. The gate receipts were estimated at no more than $35,000.

Except for a brief flash in the last three rounds, two of which the thirteenth and fifteenth, he started off, Slattery was [illegible] speedier, outclassed and outsmarted by the champion. The Buffalo Irishman lacked his customary speed and was consistently beaten to what looked like punches but which usually were harmless slaps to the neck and shoulders. Rosenbloom won all of the first 12 rounds thereby piling up a margin on points that was sufficient to offset Slattery's closing flurry.

Nice and Not So Nice

BENNY TO TRY COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP.)—Benny Leonard, retired lightweight champion who resigned his toga in 1925, will attempt a comeback under the management of Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey and at present the pilot of Mickey Walker.

Kearns said he has signed Leonard to a five-year contract under his management and asserted Benny probably would make his first comeback appearance in a Chicago ring late this month against an opponent yet to be selected.

Benny is 35 years old. He began boxing in 1912 and won the lightweight title from Freddie Welsh, the Britisher, in 1917. He lost on a foul to Jack Britton in an attempt to win the welterweight crown.

Three Advance In Tennis Tourney

JEANNETTE, Pa., Aug. 6.—Don Snyder, of Greensburg, and Roger West and Guy Wolfe, both of Jeannette, advanced in the singles of the annual Westmoreland County tennis tournament with victories at the McKee courts yesterday.

Snyder defeated Father Bernard, of St. Vincent, 6-1 and 6-3. West triumphed over Dick Brunner, of Jeannette, 6-3 and 6-3, and Wolfe repulsed the assault of Art Nelson, of Jeannette, 6-1 and 6-1.

Why be satisfied with second-choice, when first-choice costs no more?

When you buy tires be sure you get the tire that will give you most for your money.

Be sure you get the tire so far ahead in quality and value that it is outstandingly the first-choice tire of the world.

That tire is the Goodyear Tire. For 16 years it has been true that "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Recently a great and unbiased public institution completed a nation-wide survey, asking American car owners "What tire is best?"

The vote, representing every section and uninfluenced in any way, shows a preference for Goodyear Tires nearly 2½ times that for the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes.

No thinking man will allow mere sales talk to weigh against public testimony like that.

Just keep firmly in mind that Goodyears enjoy leadership because they give the user something extra, and that the user gets that something extra today at no premium in price.

When the high-pressure dealer seeks to sell you a second-choice tire against your better judgment, protect yourself by asking him this simple question:

"Why should I buy a second-choice tire, when Goodyears cost no more?"

PARK TENNIS PLAY NEARS FINALS

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Semi-final battling enlivens today's program of inter-park series competition in the second annual Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Pittsburgh Public Parks tennis championships now approaching climax on the fine battery of municipal rectangles that make up the Frick lot.

Both men's and women's penultimate events are on the slate for completion this afternoon and evening, final titular play for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Parks Challenge Cups and trips to Detroit as Steel City delegates to the National Public Parks championships being scheduled for Saturday.

HARRY WALD WINS

Three of the four masculine semi-finalists already have been determined, 1930 Champion Frank Broida, Frick ace, and Al McCorkle, Riverview dark-horse, having drawn byes and Harry Wald, Schenley stylist, having eliminated Karl Beilstein, hard-hitting West Park blonde, 6-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, in a feature tussle of yesterday. Decision as to the identity of the remaining member of the surviving quartet will be arrived early this afternoon, Jack Redmond, slashing Highland southpaw, and Billy Creighton, easy Olympian, having been halted by darkness last evening after Creighton had landed the initial set, 9-7, and Redmond had fought up from the rut to bag the second and third sessions, 6-4, 6-3. The tilt will be resumed at 1 o'clock from the point at which it was interrupted.

The entire feminine semi-final bracket was ascertained yesterday, Mildred Klages, of West Park, furnished high spot of the occasion by downing Letitia Schmidt, Schenley luminary and last year's runner-up in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, while Jeannette Miller, accomplished Frick entry, scrummaged vigorously to defeat her Highland namesake, Dorothy Miller, 10-8, 6-2. Mrs. Jean Artzberger, Olympia star and defending champion, and Ruth Stainer, Riverview contender, were not required to oust.

BROIDA MEETS WALD

A better-rounded game saved the day for Wald against the heavier-walloping Beilstein. The Schenleyite, without exhibiting great pace, hit well off forehand, stroked a backhand that, though not especially strong, was still far from being a liability, and approached the net to volley and smash effectively at vital junctures.

Broida registers his 1931 inter-park debut in combat with Wald at 3 o'clock today. The tail-end of the Redmond-Creighton fray, as above stated, goes on earlier, with Miss Miller tangling with Mrs. Artzberger immediately thereafter. The dinner-hour card gets steam up at 6 o'clock, Al McCorkle, Riverview driver, encountering the Redmond-Creighton survivor and Miss Klages trying conclusions with Miss Stainer.

The summary

MEN'S SINGLES

First round: Beilstein, West Park, defeated Al McCorkle, Riverview, 6-4, 6-2. Second round: Frank Broida, Frick, defeated Jack Redmond, Highland, and Wald, Creighton, Olympia, played to 9-7, 6-4, 6-2, halted by darkness and to be completed today.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

First round: Jeannette Miller, Frick, defeated Dorothy Miller, Highland, 10-8, 6-2. Second round: Mildred Klages, West Park, defeated Letitia Schmidt, Schenley, 6-4, 6-3.

Shooting in the T. Clarence Marshall marathon event, feature of the anual T. Clarence Marshall $7,000 Trapshooting Tournament, Crothers broke 458 straight before missing.

Mark Arie, of Champaign, Ill., had a score of 491 for second place money.

MATTER OF MILLERS

MISS JEANNETTE MILLER — MISS DOROTHY MILLER

The two Miller misses—Jeannette, of Frick Park, and Dorothy, of Highland Park—battled in the women's singles of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's second annual interparks tennis tournament at Frick Park yesterday, with Jeannette the winner in a hard-fought match, 10-8, 6-2.

DRAW FOR CUP PLAY MADE

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP).—The draw for the Wightman cup tennis matches, the international women's team encounter between Great Britain and the United States, reserve the meeting of the top ranking stars of the two teams until Saturday, the second day of play.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, of San Francisco, uncrowned queen of the American courts, and Betty Nuthall, British holder of the American singles title, are scheduled to meet in the fifth and final singles match, according to the draw announced last night.

Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Nuthall were named as the No. 1 players of the two teams today. Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Cal., and Phyllis Mudford were ranked second, while Mrs. J. A. Harper, of Oakland, Cal., and Dorothy Round were selected as the third singles players.

Sarah Palfrey, Boston player who was chosen as a member of the team to succeed Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., who withdrew, was selected as the partner of Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, donor of the cup and team captain, for the second American doubles team. Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Harper make up the first American combination.

The program for the opening singles matches tomorrow sends Mrs. Moody against Miss Mudford in the opening match, starting at 2:30. Miss Jacobs encounters Miss Nuthall in the second, while Mrs. Harper faces Miss Round in the third singles match.

TWO TOURNEYS CARDED TODAY

The Altoona and St. Clair Country Clubs were staging mixed two-ball foursome invitation golf tourneys today. In each instance large fields were reported as scheduled to participate.

Tomorrow the Butler Country Club will be host to a one-day handicap tourney of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Billy Burke, National open champion, and the man he barely beat out in their recent 72-hole playoff, George Von Elm, the big business man golfer, appear in an exhibition match at the New Castle Field Club tomorrow following their contest at the Chautauqua (N. Y.) Country Club today. They are pairing with Jack Cassel, Chautauqua pro, and Bill Souter, Jacksonville, Fla., teacher. Tomorrow, Capt. V. A. Smith, New Castle instructor, will accompany them.

Saturday, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, former National open champions, appear at the Summit Golf Club, Uniontown, for a nine-hole exhibition at 10 o'clock in the morning and an 18-hole match in the afternoon, partnered with C. C. Clain, of Johnstown, and I. B. Peterson, Jr., of Steubenville, Ohio State University golf team player, a couple of amateurs who won the right to play with the stars in an elimination test last week-end.

George Scott, pupil of Harry McIntosh, of the Pupp's Foot Golf Club, has been installed as professional at the new Breeze Hill golf course, on the Greensburg pike. He formerly caddied and was caddie-master at Pupp's Foot.

Quartet Survives Washington Co. Play

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 6.—The semi-final and final rounds of the seventh annual Washington County championship golf tournament will be played over the Monongahela Valley Country Club links today. Thirty-six-hole semi-final matches are listed for the morning, with the 18-hole championship round booked for the afternoon.

In the championship fight, H. O. Colean, Jr., H. S. Parker, R. B. Parker and W. B. Spragg, all of the home club, remain. Two favorites were eliminated yesterday, F. C. Campbell, of McDonald, losing to Spragg, and R. B. Parker defeating Sam Evans.

GERMAN CRISIS LAID TO DEBT REPUDIATION

Watering of Pre-War Marks Blamed for Savings Losses

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—

Mr. Rukeyser

"During the inflation prior to 1924, every cent of internal debt to German nationals was paid off in virtually worthless paper marks, and this had the effect of destroying the capital fund of the German people. The process left the German people in a similar status to that of sympathizers of the Southern Confederacy which repudiated its obligations. The trouble lay in the vast extinction of private property. This applied not only to federal debts, but also to those of German states, cities and private companies. In effect, the accumulated savings of the German people were wiped out."

Low Steel Earnings Seen For Third Quarter

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

FURTHER DECLINES IN STEEL [illegible] activity and [illegible] here to improvement in earnings during [illegible] quarter of the year. Steel ingot production has [illegible] 30 per cent of capacity, which is a low point for the [illegible]

The principal consumers of steel are buying at low rates [illegible] likely to increase their purchases in the near future. [illegible] automobile makers and the building industry are the [illegible] customers of the steel industry.

Owing to the sharp declines [illegible] the railroads are [illegible] difficulty in keeping their rating even of the safest [illegible] issues, such as those of equipment companies and first lands. To make [illegible] statements appear as attractive as possible, most of the [illegible] have deferred as much maintenance work as possible. [illegible] of car trains and operating stock have been reduced [illegible] minimum.

The process of securing higher rates on a new [illegible] appears to be [illegible] probability of the railroads getting [illegible] until after the year.

Auto Peak Passed

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY has passed its busy season. While [illegible] this year have not been disappointing in view of general business conditions, most of the motor car [illegible] will start work on their new [illegible] Naturally, [illegible] changes of style are small. The building trade is still one of the most active sufferers [illegible] Although there is slightly more volume of road [illegible] than in 1930, it was not this does not [illegible] the steel industry's sales to any material extent.

Within recent months [illegible] structural business has stepped to the general low [illegible]

Structural Prospects Dark

WHILE OPTIMISTIC PREDICTIONS about the pros[illegible] [illegible] have been made at several times [illegible] [illegible] to find a basis for them. So far as [illegible] projects such as office buildings and hotels are con[illegible]

A surprisingly large proport[illegible] recently constructed buildings have gone into receiver[illegible] and the values of bonds of the successful structures have [illegible] the general lack of confidence in this type of security. Obviously it will be difficult to finance new buildings until the [illegible] structures are restored to a paying basis and public [illegible] in [illegible] real estate securities has been re-established.

Economies Help Steel

THIS COMBINATION OF FACTORS makes the im[illegible] outlook for the steel industry rather gloomy. But [illegible] is one important factor which probably will prevent earn[illegible] from sinking to lower levels.

The effects of drastic economies were noticeable in the re[illegible] of some of the steel companies for the second quarter. These will be even more apparent in the third and fourth quarters.

Stock Exchange Topics

Market's Short Interest Has Increased During Past Few Weeks

Probably some stocks have been oversold. Traders have been putting out moderate lines and without the help of rather heavy liquidation they have not had many favorable opportunities to cover at a profit. Eventually, the stocks which have been oversold should recover unless something happens meantime to unsettle conditions again and new liquidation develops in a large scale. So far as can be learned, there has not been much outside short selling in the past few days.

Those who have maintained an optimistic attitude toward the market are discussing precedents for a recovery in general business. Conservative economists call attention to the fact that there is no way to judge accurately the length of a depression, but how long conditions will remain on the bottom before a turn comes which will carry through. There is still a lack of confidence among consumers of products and without this confidence it is not likely that a good and general business recovery will come shortly. Most experts contend that any improvement in the fall will be more than seasonal for normal years.

Most observers continue to advise clients to remain out of the market until something happens to give it new incentive in either direction. They oppose short selling at this time, and favor the use of stop loss orders to protect accounts.

The International Harvester Company has found it necessary to revise downward the price at which its stock was offered to subscription to employees last year. The offering at that time was made on the basis of $75 a share, but the steady decline in the market value of the stock since has apparently moved the officials to make some measure of readjustment to correspond in the matter of stock offered to workers. Under the new plan employees have been permitted to cancel their subscriptions.

Things are definitely looking up in the rayon industry and demand is increasing encouragingly, declared Hiram S. Rivitz, president of Industrial Rayon Corporation. Mr. Rivitz revealed that his company is preparing to extend the scope of its Cleveland plant. Several hundred more workers will be employed. He stated that the company's plants in Cleveland and Covington, Va., were operating at capacity.

CRUCIBLE HEAD OPTIMISTIC

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—AP—Crucible Steel Company of America reported for the first six months this year net earnings of $482,830, compared with net income of $2,317,773 for the like period of 1930.

H. S. Wilkinson, president, in his report to stockholders, said the company during the first quarter had about 50 per cent of normal business, but since then orders and production had declined, with the general decline in the steel industry. Until the business had reached the lowest volume it has had since 1921.

Mr. Wilkinson said:

"We are continuing to pay dividends on the preferred stock as we did in 1921, using a sufficient amount of our surplus to enable us to do so in the belief that this period of depression will not last long enough to warrant its discontinuance.

"Up to the present time no attempt has been made to change the wages of labor, but in January a reduction of 20 per cent was made in the salary payroll. This affected, without exception, all salaried officers and employes of the company.

"We believe the extent of this depression through which we are passing is now only a question of a few months before our business will start forward again, and that we will advance from that time on until we reach normal conditions."

GERMAN CREDIT PROGRESS MADE

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Wall street bankers made substantial progress today toward receiving practical means for maintaining the volume of American short term credits in Germany now estimated at around $600,000,000.

F. Abott Goodhue, chairman of a committee of bankers chosen to study the recommendations of Dr. Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank, for working effective the plan of maintaining credits to Germany, announced late yesterday that a general understanding upon the problem had been reached at a general meeting of the Federal Reserve Bank at which all of the leading New York banks were represented. He said:

"Certain suggested modifications of the German proposals, which seemed desirable to the New York bankers, were agreed upon and are to be cabled to the Reichsbank.

"On the whole, these amendments are on the same lines as those suggested by British bankers and, in addition, safeguard certain technical questions which are peculiar to this market."

MARKET AGAIN DRIFTS OFF SLOWLY

Losses in Stocks Limited Mostly to Fractions, With Rail Shares Harder Hit

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP).—The lazy downward drift of security prices continued without notable interruption for the third successive day in Wall street today.

Losses in stocks were largely limited to fractions, however, although there was a spluttering of declines of a point or more. Recovers in stocks excluded after yesterday's unaccountable slump removed one unsettling factor but the local market was without real impetus. London and Paris markets were steady to firm.

RAILS DRAGGY

Rails were again draggy. New York Central declined more than a point to a 10-year low close to 71 before meeting support. Its 1929 peak was 256. Similar loses appeared in Atchison Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Great Northern preferred and Canadian Pacific. The market showed signs of stiffening in the late morning, but heaviness developed in Loews and Fox after midday and the list again sagged. Those issues lost more than a point. Similar declines were shown in North American, National Biscuit, Safeway Stores, American Tobacco B, Liggett and Myers B and a few others. United States Steel and American Telephone moved narrowly. Johns Manville lost more than 2. Western Union and Shell Union preferred declined 4 points.

While dog days drag along in general business there are a few hopeful signs of preparations for autumn trade. There had been a considerable influx of buyers into the New York wholesale market, and one estimate places the current number at 10 per cent above those in town a year ago. Buying, according to most reports, is proceeding rather cautiously. Retail sales reports of chain organizations continue satisfactory in the main. W. T. Grant today reported July sales 8½ per cent over July 1930. Kresge's July sales raise to $10,721,890, only about $160,000 less than July of last year.

OIL OUTLOOK BETTER

Gov. Murray's forceful shutting down of all but stripper wells in Oklahoma was reported as having a stimulating effect upon the Chicago wholesale gasoline market, and if the Texas Legislature succeeds in providing adequate means to enforce proration in East Texas the petroleum trade feels that a real turn for the better may be achieved. Wholesale gasoline sold at Chicago at a maximum price of 3½ cents, against 3⅝ yesterday.

While Wall street remained uninformed as what was actually behind yesterday's flop in sterling exchange, the erratic movements were generally regarded as representing only a misunderstanding somewhere, possibly between the Bank of England and the Bank of France. It was also understood in international banking circles today that the Bank of England had as yet refrained from using any of the $250,000,000 credit advanced by the Federal Reserve and the Bank of France. Rumors that the Bank of England might make a further advance in its 4½ per cent discount rate proved unfounded and its weekly statement showed its ratio of reserves to liabilities up to 41.2 per cent after touching 37.4 last week.

WHEAT RALLIES AFTER DIP

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Better support developed on the dip around 48 cents for September and with less pressure most of the early losses in wheat were regained.

Corn rallied to around previous close levels on covering by recent sellers.

Ideals a Greater Crown to Man's Life Than Power or Riches—Fay King

By FAY KING

Some men sacrifice their whole lives for wealth.

Their goal is gold and every turn they take brings them more of its power.

One cannot afford to be sentimental or soft in the race for riches.

Some men sacrifice their whole lives for women. And the woman who demands ornament and luxury at the price of a man's honor and integrity is not worth the sacrifice he makes, and for which he must sooner or later pay dearly.

Some men sacrifice their lives for an ideal, even though it may mean a lifetime of poverty.

Their greater glory often lies in what they refuse to attain at the price of their high principles.

But the reward within itself is greater than wealth.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Tranquillity of mind is as necessary to beauty as it is to happiness. It oils the wheels of life, keeps away evidences of the years. Both tranquil and wise is the woman who avoids arguments and misunderstandings. It can be done with laughter or good-natured ridicule. Wise is the one who, having good reason for boiling with indignation, smoothes down her feathers and says: Sit tight! Keep your shirt on, old girl. This disturbance will soon be forgotten and wrinkles are not easily erased."

Whereas in the past the lip stick staged a red riot, being applied with lavishness and heavy pressure, now it skims lightly over the rosebud mouth, providing the lips with a faint but necessary color support that seems essential to the well-being of the femme. Too heavy a smear gives the pretty girl a hard look and doesn't do a bit of good to the facial scenery of a plain one. New colors in lip sticks are natural tones supposed to be on friendly terms with rouge.

Nation's Youth Opens Tuberculosis Campaign

The National Tuberculosis Association has announced the inauguration of a country-wide campaign against tuberculosis. It differs from previous campaigns in that all appeal to the youth of the nation will be made. Heretofore all campaigns concerning tuberculosis have been conducted primarily for and by adults.

Dr. Copeland

It is believed that with a systematic attack upon tuberculosis by medical, health, social and civic organizations throughout the country the disease may be decreased materially. There can be no doubt of its educational value.

In New York State within the past year there has been the inauguration of a similar campaign against diphtheria. Within a comparatively short period of time it has been estimated that diphtheria cases have declined from 4,370 to 1,613. This is a decrease of 63.5 per cent in five years. The number of deaths have declined from 337 to 144, a decrease of 51 per cent.

The significance and value of an organized campaign is amply demonstrated by these results. Thirty-one cities having no anti-diphtheria campaigns have an increase in the death rate from diphtheria. It is hoped that these organized campaigns against such preventable diseases as diphtheria and in many instances tuberculosis will result eventually in their complete eradication.

Tuberculosis still remains one of mankind's chief enemies. It is particularly the foe of youth and its toll far exceeds that which modern medicine should permit.

As I see it, we should encourage these movements against disease. They call attention to the seriousness of neglect and the simplicity of prevention. The prospect of success is so great we can enter upon the work with enthusiasm.

Answers to Health Questions

Q. What would account for a sore feeling at the end of the spine; it hurts to either sit or lie down?

A. This is probably due to a rheumatic condition. Try to find the underlying cause first of all.

Mrs. R. M. Q. What do you advise for neuritis?

A. The treatment depends upon the underlying cause. For full particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

B. E. K. Q. What will reduce the ankles? 2. How much should a girl of 14, 5 feet 3 inches tall, weigh?

A. It is difficult to reduce weight in any part of the body without reducing in general. Exercise such as walking, skating and dancing may be helpful. 2. She should weigh about 113 pounds. This is about the average weight for one of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

Household Hints

Keep the coffee pot absolutely clean and free from coffee deposits. Wash it carefully after each meal.

A paste of fuller's earth and ammonia spread over grease spots on rugs and allowed to dry will take out the grease in a jiffy. Sweep the dried paste away with a broom or take it up in the vacuum cleaner.

A successful method of keeping the house plant fresh during a week's absence is to soak a large sponge well with water and place it on the dirt in the pot. The plant will absorb enough water to keep it in good condition during your stay.

Kitty Placed Under Arrest In Murder Case

CHAPTER XXXVI

As I stared at the headlines, fairly shrieking of the murder of Forrest Malvern, Viola stepped forward as if to guard me from Fanny Dutton.

"Why," Fanny's voice changed, "why couldn't you have let Forrest alone? He was all mine—we loved each other. But you—you hell cat, because you couldn't win him for yourself you killed him rather than let me keep him!"

"I didn't see Forrest Malvern last night, Fanny," I declared with all the seriousness and sincerity that I could put in my voice.

"As if there's the liar that could talk you," she answered her face twisting back again.

"It's true, Viola cried speaking for the first time since Fanny forced her way into our room.

"You can't make her," Fanny said.

"Katie, don't leave this room all last night and I was with her—we were there [illegible] without [illegible] your [illegible] before you go any [illegible]."

Viola stepped toward her as if to attack her but Fanny didn't flinch.

I shook my head at Viola.

"If you are man enough to think I killed Forrest why don't you go to the police," I asked.

Viola made wild gestures for me to stop talking.

Fanny stood still for a moment, glaring at me. Suddenly her face twisted. There was really hate in her eyes and her whole body shook as she rubbed her hand across her head.

DENIES SELLING HIM

"I [illegible] I'll give [illegible] and [illegible] I was [illegible] I'll go [illegible]

"Of [illegible] a story," Fanny's voice rose. "But I told you the truth. I didn't see Forrest last night. Being [illegible] out of me, and I have reason for [illegible] you sort of were [illegible] mind [illegible] isn't that [illegible]

"Yes [illegible] that's [illegible]

Fanny [illegible] herself [illegible] drew at [illegible] out a [illegible] matched [illegible]

Viola [illegible] heard [illegible] chair [illegible] slowly staring at me as I still sat [illegible]

"Do [illegible] things," she said in a sort of frightened hollow [illegible]

"I'm [illegible] Nora I understand," I answered. Viola began getting some of my clothes ready for me.

"You read that headline when you were in the kitchenette. You said you was." The door closed. I couldn't see out into the foyer from where I was in bed.

"That's all right. I'm Miss Mason," I called, just as the man and Viola appeared.

"You Miss Mason?" he demanded.

"I just said so."

"Where were you last night, Miss Mason?" he asked coming close to the bed and looking me over as I pulled the blanket up about my throat.

I was where gentlemen took off their hats when they were with ladies," I snapped.

Viola made violent gestures to me. She was white and trembling.

KITTY ARRESTED

He never batted an eyelash at that.

"Know Forrest Malvern?"

"She isn't talking—to you."

Viola fairly screamed this warning.

"Thanks, Viola," I said, and I turned to the man.

"Sit down, tell me what it is all about, please," and I managed to smile at him.

"I'm from headquarters."

"Gas, electric or telephone? The meters are out there," and I pointed to the kitchenette.

Being funny like that won't get you anywhere."

"Well, what do you want?"

"We want you to come over to headquarters."

"When?"

"Now, with me Miss Mason."

"You'll have to go in the kitchenette while I dress."

[illegible] behind that [illegible] Miss [illegible]

I wrapped the blanket around me as my pajamas were decidedly transparent and went back of the screen. Viola brought my clothes. Her finger was at her lips. Once she whispered: "Don't speak a word. I'll get a lawyer."

"Don't worry," I said loud enough to be heard. "I didn't see Forrest Malvern last night."

When I dressed the plainclothesman told me to come along.

"It is just a request or do I have to go?"

"You have to go."

"You seem to think I murdered that man and I'm being arrested, is that it?"

"Sure it's for murder, do you think I'm pinching you for jay-walking."

Is Kitty able to clear herself? Read tomorrow's absorbing installment.

Synopsis

Katherine Mason, who believes in playing around and having a good time, jilts Peter Thompson because he is poor. She expects to marry rich Thad Parsons, but Thad marries Arline Sargent instead. Katherine becomes fond of Forrest Malvern, an old friend of Dolly Hawkins, who has disappeared. Thad wants to divorce Arline. Arline offers Kitty a huge sum of money to testify falsely against Thad. At the trial however, Kitty tells the truth and Thad is granted the divorce. He wants to marry Kitty but she rejects him. Kitty has good times with Forrest. He has a gift for her and she promises to leave a party and go to his apartment at midnight to see it. In the building on her way to see Forrest, an old scrub woman warns Kitty to stay away from him. Kitty goes to the woman's poor quarters to hear her story and is amazed when she proves to be Dolly's mother. The woman says that Dolly ended her life in the river. Kitty does not visit Forrest. Believing that she did Viola rebukes Kitty. The next day they learn that Forrest had been found shot to death in his apartment.

"[illegible] Katie, you [illegible] if I were in your place I wouldn't attempt to explain [illegible]

"[illegible] Linda?"

"Don't [illegible] Katie. I know what you are going to say. She came over to me. If you had only told me last night [illegible] state why you stopped [illegible] she [illegible] and [illegible] started at me [illegible] I would be ready.

"What do you expect me to do, go over to Peter Thompson's house [illegible] Peter wants [illegible]

But Viola [illegible] I don't [illegible] about. That [illegible] I don't [illegible] Forrest [illegible] Mason [illegible] last night. How many times [illegible] I say that?"

Viola [illegible] heard [illegible] the [illegible] chair [illegible] She [illegible] have already [illegible] staring at me as I still sat [illegible]

"I'm [illegible] Nora I understand," I answered. Viola began getting some of my clothes ready for me.

"You read that headline when you were in the kitchenette. By [illegible] time you would have been miles away. I could have helped you."

I made an impatient gesture. What was the use.

"No wonder you were nervous [illegible] mother you cried and tried to make me believe you hadn't been out after midnight. If you could have had confidence in me. She started to cry but [illegible] herself.

"I'm going to save you. I'll get witnesses. I'll do everything [illegible] thing you can get away from it [illegible] daylight."

"I have nothing to run for."

"All right. Perhaps that's best. Face it. Let's [illegible] to [illegible] I don't think I blame you. I know what happened as well as if I were there. You asked me about some funny events yesterday. He probably told you he would give you some and you went there alone like a fool. I know what happened. The best thing you can do is tell the truth, say that you fought for your honor."

"But I didn't see him. Viola and that awful corpse of a girl [illegible] up to a man's room to [illegible] for her honor has become [illegible] stock."

"I can't help you when you [illegible] me. Can't you trust me? Is this the first place where did you go after midnight?"

DETECTIVE CALLS

It was time to tell her. I had to tell before and foolishly let my temper stop me.

"I went to see Forrest."

"Katie, for God's sake don't [illegible] Viola [illegible] Be still," I went to [illegible] but I didn't see him. It's time to [illegible] Before [illegible] and it is true that I faked a headache to get away from Russ's party but [illegible] Viola. I didn't see Forrest [illegible] from seeing him."

Viola looked at me queerly for a moment.

"Perhaps an insanity doctor [illegible] but you are talking crazy [illegible] No old scrubwoman [illegible] stopped you. Voting Machine Delay

In Any Event, Commissioners Will Have Responsibility, Keeps Tax Expenditures Down, Commissioners Say

On the eve of the U.S. voting machines promised for August 15 were received. Doubt even as expressed that they would be ready for the September primary.

The machines, by vote of the County Commissioners, [illegible] original contract led to its being [illegible] necessitated resubmission.

Following from the Philadelphia Record:

"It is made known finally that the city will not be fully equipped with voting machines for the September primary, nor even for the November election.

"The Commissioners try to register surprise and disappointment. Such professions are bunk—and impudent bunk, at that.

"These officials themselves are chiefly responsible for the deplorable situation. It is not due to accident or to a conspiracy of unavoidable circumstances or even to incompetence.

"It is the result of deliberate obstruction, of a calculated sacrifice of the public interest to political designs."

In view of the extent to which the Republican organizations have profited by election fraud, it is not surprising that the politicians are under suspicion of being opposed to the installation of voting machines.

Veteran's Reunion

It Would Be Gratifying If War Reminiscences Would Revive the Spirit of Patriotic Service.

The twenty-first annual reunion of the 80th Division opened in Pittsburgh today.

The 42nd reunion of the 28th Division will open at Mt. Gretna Saturday.

Citizens generally will hope that these gatherings of Pittsburgh's World War soldiers in whom we took, and continue to take, such pride will be pleasant and successful in every respect.

It would be gratifying if living over again in retrospect the days of the war would revive in the citizenship the spirit of patriotic service and self-sacrifice that was so much in evidence in 1917 and 1918.

There is as much need for it now to further democratic ideals as there was then.

A Lesson From the Fire

Spontaneous Combustion of Oil Soaked Mops and Cloths Is Revealed as Source of Danger.

There is a lesson not only for the managers of other institutions but for housewives as well in the information adduced at the inquest into the cause of the recent fatal fire at the Little Sisters of the Poor Home for the Aged.

Battalion Chief William H. Davis said investigation had disclosed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion of bits of oil soaked wood contined in a bag attached to a floor polisher.

Deputy Fire Chief Frank Jones testified that investigators from the National Board of Fire Underwriters sent here to inspect the home had told him scientific tests of a floor mop used for oiling floors revealed that it would ignite from spontaneous combustion in 55 minutes under a temperature of 82 degrees. This applies to oily cloths, too.

The moral is obvious.

Keep Our Flag on Seas!

It Is of Prime Importance That Merchant Ships Should Remain Under American Control.

The ultimate ownership of the Shipping Board steamers of the United States Lines constitutes far more than a matter of financial routine.

In connection with the impending reorganization, the Leviathan and other merchant ships should not be carelessly placed on the auction block.

It is of prime importance to the American people that the ships should remain in American hands, flying the American flag.

Too much in connection with national safety and national destiny are at stake to permit the ships under the pressure of financial stress to pass to corporate ownership, whose undivided Americanism may be questioned.

The government agents should seek to find an ownership UNQUESTIONABLY AMERICAN in its aims and affiliations. This does not mean a company which operates ships under different flags and whose traditions are not unmistakably American.

As Americans we insist on keeping under our flag and under our managerial control these peaceful monitors of the seas.

The ships are useful in times of peace as the nucleus of an American merchant marine. In time of war, they constitute important adjuncts to agencies of national defense.

It should be borne in mind that the acute depression in shipping, which has brought up the question of reorganization, is international in character.

Other important governments have been called upon to contribute large subsidies to their shipping companies to keep their representation on the high seas.

Accordingly, no governmental astigmatism on this side should permit these important ships to pass out of 100 PER CENT AMERICAN CONTROL.

This warning is especially pertinent, in view of the fact that American private interests are prepared to take possession of these merchant ships and to keep them in operation.

CERTAINLY THIS WEALTHIEST OF NATIONS CAN AFFORD, WITHOUT FOREIGN CORPORATE BACKING, TO KEEP ITS STEAMERS ON THE HIGH SEAS EVEN IN DEPRESSED TIMES OF NECESSARILY PROFITLESS OPERATION.

Alas! Alack! Ah, Me! Darn It!

It's true, that's the worst of it. This Prohibition cuss is right to the Constitution. If you don't believe it, take a day off and read it through.

You can slip things into the Constitution with considerable ease, as the foolish public learned as Prohibition landed on its neck.

But slipping anything out of the Constitution is something very much else, again.

Old Man Congress, with the flask on his hip, does not exaggerate. To get anything out of the Constitution you must get the votes of 36 out of the 48 States. That's in the Constitution also.

And if you think that the bootleggers, hijackers, racketeers, child-shooters, prohibition fanatics with 50-50 men, well subsidized judges and magistrates, and a few of the others couldn't keep the 36 States from voting against their profits, you don't know much.

This series is to be continued; possibly and very probably it will last into the next century.

My Questions

When I am troubled by a swarm of things,
The things that are the things
that can not be,
I see no fellowman with questionings,
But go to seek my answer from the sea.

There is a narrow beach where tall cliffs stand
Their feet wave-washed, their summits flecked with spray,
While sentinels between the sea and land
Thus slowly age by age are worn away.

I hear in ocean's song: "A thousand years
And one cliff falls ten thousand cubic yards
Have crumbled in my arms. What of your fears?
You are who are transient as the white foam's kiss?"

Elsewhere I take my questions all in vain,
The answers wait me in the sea's refrain.

FRANCE DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

PARIS, Aug. 6.—Much prejudice against Paris by the tourist I believe is engendered by the local version of America's popular drink lemonade. A lemonade in France when ordered at a cafe is a nauseous gagging mixture of medicated lemon juice served lukewarm.

Unless forewarned it often takes several trips to learn how to get the real American drink. Here it is a citron-pressé and they bring you the ingredients to fashion it yourself, a halved lemon, bucket of ice, squeezer, sugar, shaker and a blue bottle of seltzer.

So the next time you plop down in a sidewalk chair just chirp "Garcon, une citron pressé" and you'll thank me and perhaps send a naughty post card. Of course, if you are not on the water wagon forget all about it. In all changing Paris the most noticeable change is in the character of its cafes.

Nearly all the solemnly sedate old places have become garish and begilted sanctuaries. Wood panelings are supplanted by glittering mirrors and silvered trappings. Only the waiter in his long white apron and dinky black monkey coat remains as Aubrey Beardsley sketched him in the long ago.

Someone has said half of Paris sits on cafe terraces while the other half saunters by in idle curiosity. And no picture of Paris is so accurate. The cafe is the most firmly grounded institution in France, the pivotal point where centers all discussion, sympathy and sentiment.

The cafe took its name from cafe, the French word for coffee. It was unknown until coffee was introduced in Europe from Persia. The first of record was established at Marseilles in 1671. The cafe's growth in France has been remarkable and around it has been settled many political and business problems of the nation.

Camille Desmoulins launched the first cry of the birth of the revolution from the Cafe de Foy. They are pleasant havens—these French cafes—yet they have spawned a national indolence regarding the country. Par example in four weeks their late has thrown me three weeks behind in what my friends hilariously call work.

This morning in front of one of the Capucine cafes a blonde, blue eyed German newsboy in a milk white uniform appeared with his satchel of Berliner Tagenblatts. It was interesting to note they sold like hot-cakes, an indication that Paris is again filled with her ancient foes. L'Echo de Paris continues to print Germany and her cities uncapitalized.

In the remnant of night life atop Montmartre a red headed colored girl from Harlem—Ada Smith—is a runner up for the Parisian popularity bestowed upon Josephine Baker for so many years. Her establishment known as "Bricktop's" is as crowded as Florence's was in other days. Although Florence has passed to the beyond the establishment she founded is continued by a French syndicate.

We were treated to a typical French street scene this afternoon when a jockeying taxi sideswiped our rented automobile. The drivers, true to local custom, popped from their seats and rushed at each other in a mutual and snarling exchange of vituperation. Their arms swooped in circles, they bared teeth and shadow boxed. No blow is ever struck in such flurries, for an exchange of blows means prison. A gendarme from his post watched them in a detached fashion for a few moments, finally sauntered over and all three soon exploded like bottles of pop. A huge crowd gathered copious notes were taken by all, finally there was a general handshaking, an exchange of polite compliments and life effervesced again. This scene is enacted hundreds of times a day on the boulevards. It is as Parisian as chimney pots.

For several years now I have not been over to watch the hired pallbearers who congregate on the narrow sidewalk back of the famed windowless church—the Madeleine. Today I dropped around. They are still there, their solid black costumes and derbies relieved only by their white celluloid collars and hook-on white ties. For six francs a funeral they meander through Paris streets, rain or shine, behind the dead to cemeteries. They are apparently affected by their gloomy calling, never talking but drooping in a mournful silence.

I had hoped to get out of France without running afoul of one of the complicated French hotel windows, but I met my Waterloo this evening. In trying to draw the heavy curtains my neck caught in one of the many ropes and I was turning blue when my wife heard my feeble gurgling awk

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Silly as are the things which women believe about men, they aren't a patch on the things which men believe about women. In spite of all their playing and palavering together, males and females still regard each other with tongue-in-cheek and ace-up-sleeve.

No man understands women and frankly says so. Whereat women are greatly flattered. They needn't be. It's no compliment. The real reason why men do not understand women is not because women are boolum—but because men do not think they are worth understanding.

Any man could understand any woman if he judged her by the tests and standards which he would apply to any man of like caliber. For fundamentally there isn't a particle of difference between male intelligence and female intelligence. There has been a tremendous difference between male and female training and environment, but, given an even break, the average woman can qualify with the average man. But it is abhorrent to male egotism to admit this. He will not acknowledge that the lady shares his brand of humanity. He insists that she's different. And he has devised a most clever sales talk to put the idea over.

"Women are smart," say men, "but they aren't smart the way men are smart. They don't really think things out—for the truth is they haven't regular brains to think with. But they have a queer, mysterious function in its place—they have intuition."

Intuition doesn't really amount to much—but now and then it pulls some awful fast stuff," continues the complacent male, "and that's where a fellow gets fooled. He thinks a woman MUST be using her brains to pull stuff like that. But how can a woman use her brains when she hasn't any to use. Nope, you can't expect a woman to be intelligent like a man. But she sure is mysterious."

All of which, you might imagine, would make the Dear Little Woman see red. But not so. Only one sentence in this series argument registers with her—namely, that she is "mysterious." And this tickles her so much that she's willing to let the Big Boy get by with murder if he'll just keep up the Feminine Mystery fantasy.

For of course, it is only a fantasy. Women aren't a particle more mysterious than men. Their boasted "intuition" and "feminine instinct" are reasoning processes just as man's balanced judgment is a reasoning process. But woman, unhampered by thousands of years of conventional training, leaps at conclusions, whereas man lumbers along in approved rute. But she blunders quite as often in her leaps as he does in his lumbering.

Feminine mystery, only a fantasy—but what a comfortable fantasy for both sexes. It allows the male to park the female in the back alley and go his way unhindered, with her own enthusiastic approval. And it allows the female to acquire a lot of fancy merit without working for it. Which, if you're that kind of a man or that kind of woman, is certainly a jake arrangement.

This same trick technique is used in dealing with other feminine attributes. Traditionally women are purer, more honest, more sensitive, more timid and more generally nicer than men. Not a word of it is true! Women are imbued with exactly the same moral and emotional qualities and face exactly the same temptations as men.

Crockett's Mirrors of Washington

By Claude G. Bowers

Some people are a bit shocked at the severity with which President Hoover and other public men are handled by the anonymous author of the "Mirrors of Washington," and Mrs. Rhinehart may be constrained to protest anew against the unkindness. We sometimes hear that writers are becoming too free in books touching upon the Presidents and other men in public life. There was "Revelry," and, although a novel, something of a history, with more fact than fiction. Then came "The Mysterious Death of President Harding," and then "The Great Mistake," critical of President Hoover. Now the "Mirrors of Washington."

But after all none of these victims of the satirist or blunt historian approach a "biography" written years ago about Martin Van Buren. It is strange that so few people, more than casually familiar with American political history, ever heard of this book. It is interesting in reflecting the rough and tumble politics of the 1830s, in that it deals with a most interesting figure, and was written by Davy Crockett.

How many people know that Davy Crockett, the frontiersman of Tennessee and Texas, was the author of the biography of Martin Van Buren?

Davy Crockett Was No Scholar

It was sensational enough to find the name of this picturesque man of the hunting garb and musket attached to a book as its author. For Davy really was no scholar. He was not an artist in the stringing of words together. He would have been sadly out of place at a literary tea. Had there been radios in his day and had he, like some writers today, consented to discuss his own book over the air, it would have been advertised as a comedy skit. Thus the interest, when it became known that Davy had written a biography of Van Buren.

And it was a comedy skit—this book; utterly absurd and yet altogether entertaining because of the flings at Van Buren. Take a few illustrations.

"He (Van Buren) is about 50 years old, and notwithstanding his baldness, which reaches all around and half down his head, like a white pitch plaster, leaving a few white floating locks, he is only three years older than I am. His face is a good deal shriveled, and he looks sorry, not for anything he has gained, but what he may lose.

"His mind beats around like a tame bear tied to a stake, in a little circle hardly bigger than the circumference of the head in which it is placed, seeking no other object than to convert the government into an instrument to serve himself or his office holding friends."

And again:

"He has become a great man without any reason for it, and so have I. He has been nominated for President without the least pretensions; and so have I. But here the similarity stops. From his cradle he was on the non-commital tribe. I never was. He had always two ways to do a thing; I never had but one. He was generally half bent, I tried to be as straight as a gun barrel. He could not bear his rise; I never minded mine. He forgot all his old associates; I stuck to the people that made me.

"He travels through the country in an English coach with English servants in uniform—I think they call it livery . . . eating in a room by himself . . . and carrying himself so stiff in his gait and grim in his dress that he is what the English call a Dandy."

And more:

"When he enters the Senate Chamber in the morning he struts and swaggers like a crow in a gutter and is laced up in corsets such as women in towns wear and if possible tighter than the best of them . . . and it is impossible from his appearance to tell whether he is a man or a woman."

None of the present day authors of "Mirrors of Washington" have anything on Davy Crockett, the first of the race.

Story Behind The Book

The story behind the book is interesting. Jackson, then President, was throwing the weight of his Administration behind the candidacy of Van Buren for the succession. In Tennessee lived a very able man who was sometimes called Cato by his friends, Hugh Lawson White. He was a member of the United States Senate, and had been a supporter of Jackson. But being a citizen of Jackson's State when Old Hickory refused to support him for the Presidency and cast his lot with Van Buren, the bitterness was intense.

Now White was a very dignified gentleman who could not stoop to scurrility, but he thought it had a value in moulding public opinion and arousing prejudices. No one ever submitted positive proof, but it was whispered at the time that it was White himself, or his close friends, who persuaded Davy Crockett to write the biography of Van Buren.

The book was issued by a Philadelphia publishing house and had a very decent sale in the cities, but no one was impressed. It was soon forgotten; and there are probably few copies in existence. One can be seen at the Congressional Library.

As Funny as Crockett's Screed

When the "Mirrors of Downing Street" was written by "The Gentleman with a Duster" the idea struck home here in America, and from time to time we have had our "Mirrors of Washington." They are all written anonymously. It would be impossible today to persuade a member of Congress—and Davy was one—to put his name to such free discussions of personalities and records. Since the "Mirrors of Downing Street" was clever, satirical, witty and funny, our own "Mirrors" are supposed to be, and sometimes are. But none have quite approached the work of the "Daddy of them all." The strange thing is that after Davy started the fashion it was not pursued in the years that followed. We had to wait for generations until the "Gentleman with a Duster" to fall into the literary trail of the gallant frontiersman who told us the imaginary story of Van Buren.

Just what Van Buren thought of the performance we do not know from any records I have seen. But he may have been impelled by this book to interest himself in the writing and publication of a sober biography of himself for use in that campaign. Reading this, by Holland, one is almost persuaded that in its sombre dignity it is almost as funny as Davy Crockett's screed.

And Davy in a sense has the best of the argument with Van Buren. New York has never placed his statue in the Hall of Fame at the national Capitol; but Davy Crockett's is there.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

As the father of a son you are disappointed that your son does not wish to follow in your footsteps in choosing his life work.

You think he shows little appreciation of the opportunities you afford him and you can't understand it.

You'd like to have him succeed you in business, in your business to which you have devoted the best years of your life and have made profitable.

You think of the struggles you made to get started, the hard labor expended to get a foothold.

It causes you much concern that your son does not grasp this opportunity to save himself the pioneer work and go farther in consequence.

But he isn't interested—isn't that enough?

If you do leave him a business and he is not happy and contented in it it is going to slip away from him and he'll be a failure.

Let your son choose his business, if possible, and he will be more successful.

Even though the going be rough at the start he will get more out of doing the thing he wants to do than he would to have you hand him a business.

Don't try to force a half-hearted effort, which it would be if distasteful to him.

You selected your life-work, didn't you?

ARSENAL TRADE BOARD TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Drive for 100 New Members Arranged for Next Month; Value to District Told

The Arsenal Board of Trade will launch its drive for 100 new members early in September, if President Albert G. Scores of names of eligible corporations and business and professional people will be divided among the present board members who will make personal calls explaining the objectives of the organization.

Dr. Curry explains the purpose of the membership drive:

"A strong board of trade will be very valuable to our neighborhood. Some people think because we are near the center of the city we need no such body, but we feel that a strong organization will accomplish much in developing any neighborhood.

"I believe that all professional and business men should be interested in this effort."

5-CENT CHARGE ON SHORT RIDE PLEA FAILS

Fitzgerald Cites Deficit in Reply to Businessmen Seeking to Aid Children

It is doubtful that the Pittsburgh Railways Company will grant a 5-cent street car fare from the center of the business section of Wilkinsburg to Marlboro avenue on the Ardmore car line, as sought by the Wilkinsburg Business Men's Association.

That is the opinion given by Thomas Fitzgerald, general manager of the railways company. He said:

"We will be glad to meet with the association in case they have any new angle to present, but I doubt if we will be able to make any cuts in the fares due to the decrease in our earnings. We have cut our rates on an average of about 20 per cent since 1923 and in the same period our earnings are off about $6,000,000."

WEEKLY PASS CITED

Mr. Fitzgerald explained that the greater part of this reduction is due to the introduction of the weekly car pass. He continued:

"We have at the present time about 17 short rides on a 5-cent fare. All of these places were carefully studied and the rate installed where it was justified."

MANY NOW WALK

The association points out that many persons are walking in the district under consideration rather than pay the full fare of 10 cents, and that hundreds of poor children are unable to use the cars because of the cost.

FIVE CLUBS SCRAMBLE FOR WEST PENN LEAGUE LEAD

EAST END FANS WITNESS LOTS OF ACTION

Race Likely to Enter Final Week Before Champion Team Can Be Determined

By TOM BIRKS

Fans following the race for the second half championship of the West Penn League, which can be classed as entirely East End loop, are seeing plenty of action. With an eight-club loop, and five of the teams deadlocked for the leadership, more can be expected as the weeks roll by.

At the present time the Homewood club of Lincoln avenue, playing its home games at Hartman Park, is leading the parade, but only by a slender margin. Manager Eddie Walsh helped his cause Sunday when the Community nine traveled to Garfield Park and defeated the Martin club 7 to 6.

GARFIELD ON EDGE

The Garfielders under the patronage of Chairman Martin are winning or losing all of their games by a single run and games of that type keep the fans on edge.

Jack Fertig feeling very much elated at taking the first half championship to Homestead, is not letting up despite a bad start, and the Aces are playing hard to win the second half and prevent any post-season playoffs.

ANY TEAM CAN WIN

Fertig pulled a fast one when he brought Chuck Forquer down from Yatesboro for the championship game with Reliance. Forquer is very popular in the Steel town.

The West Penn loop is the only loop of a first-class nature in the district that is offering the fans a good race. Any team in the loop can win the second half and with Swissvale, Turtle Creek, Homestead and the East End teams battling it out the final week of the schedule should roll around before a champion can be named.

Fans around Homewood Playgrounds are watching Reliance Life. The insurance boys are hitting on all cylinders since that first-half defeat.

City League Nines Fail to Hit Stride

Followers of the East End teams in the City League for the first time in many years are without a contender for championship honors. Doings in this semi-professional league during the last week have given the fans following Homewood and the J. L. Thomas nines lots of grief.

When the season started despite the fact that the Homewood executives were retrenching there was a belief that the teams led by Heinie Boll would cut more than the average figure in the league race.

Pitching staff difficulties developed, and outside of Carl Stewart, the East Enders did not have a pitcher who could be depended upon to finish a game.

DEARTH OF PITCHERS

There is little doubt that the failure of Jimmy Steele to round into his last season form was the last straw and a dearth of pitchers of City League class did not help the problem.

Heinie Boll worked hard to keep the hitting of the club up to standard, and then when Pearson went on the sick list the attacking part of the lineup suffered a setback.

THOMAS HAS TROUBLES

The same troubles are besetting the other East End member of the loop, the J. L. Thomas nine. The Bridge outfit is the champion "in-and-out" club of the circuit. And the drubbing they took at Bloomfield on Sunday from the Book Shoe nine will probably eliminate any thoughts of titles coming to Bloomfield.

Manager Daly signed Tommy Gettings again in the second half, but even with good pitching Dorment and Book Shoe are too far ahead to be caught.

STREETS TORN, CITY DEMANDS DAMAGES

Streets in Squirrel Hill Damaged by Ditch Digger Ordered Repaired by Lang

Vincent Manella, city contractor, and the McDonough and O'Toole Company will have to pay for repairing the damage to streets in Squirrel Hill district, torn up last week by the flanged wheels of Manella's ditch digger, according to Public Works Director Edward G. Lang.

Manella loaned the digger to the McDonough & O'Toole Company last Thursday. While it was moving on its own power to the Manella garage, its wheels dug into the asphalt pavement on Richland, Toga, Forbes streets and Braddock avenue and Beechwood boulevard.

Director Lang made an inspection of the streets and said:

"The rules of this department are that all ditch diggers must be transported on trailers and not on highways under their own power. The contractors will be obliged to meet the expense of repairing the streets. Hereafter we will not permit the moving of a digger under its own power on city thoroughfares."

Short Story -:- Stella Confesses

By RITA DEVER

Stella Hessler ran the dry ingredients for her cake through the sifter. Stella took great pains with her cakes, as she did with all things about her home. It was her boast that in the three years that she had managed a home of her own she had never served a cake that was not a success. As she reached for the vanilla bottle in the pantry she sighed. She wondered whether Bill, her mother really appreciated her.

Her reverie ended abruptly. The second mixing bowl was gone. And it wasn't just the custom mixing bowl either; it was one of the delft set that Aunt Millie had given them for a wedding present.

Stella knew it couldn't be in the refrigerator. She had special dishes for that. She made a hasty search of the pantry shelves, perhaps she had absent-mindedly put it there. The bowl was not there.

A horrible idea occurred to her. Bill couldn't have taken one of the good bowls for mixing paints. With a shudder she recalled the day he had asked for the use of the kitchen while she was out. He had explained that he wanted to paint a picture of the kitchen sink, and that it would be a surprise for her. Stella had been pleased at the time. Now she was not so sure.

Stella tried to put the thought from her mind. Bill was not that kind of husband. He would not deliberately ruin her dishes. Perhaps he had merely borrowed the bowl for a short time. Perhaps he had already returned it.

Lunch was ready, but still Bill had not come. Stella went into the hall and looked out the door window. What was detaining Bill? It was not like him to be late for meals. Perhaps he was ill. Maybe he had had an accident. Stella felt a sudden chill at the thought.

Then she remembered that Bill had to go to the studio that afternoon to get his paints. Perhaps he had stopped at Kelly's and had a few beers. She Fascinates Men —EVEN WHILE IN PRISON!

A Photograph of Lady Edmee Owen Taken Just Before She was Sentenced to Prison for Five Years for Shooting Her Sweetheart's Wife

Charm of Titled Beauty Made Admirer Plot to Rescue Her from French Jail but the Plan Failed When Bribed Head Warden Killed Himself

ONLY one year after being sentenced to five years' imprisonment for shooting the wife of her lover, the fascinating Lady Edmee Owen is again the central figure in a new drama. . . . No longer does this attractive French widow of a British millionaire wear one of her many wigs as a background for her prevailing mood. . . . No longer does she paint her toenails with gold so that she may always have gold at her feet. . . . Instead, she is in solitary confinement and is watched day and night.

When Lady Owen comes in contact with other prisoners, her head is covered with a newly invented mask through which she can see but cannot be seen. . . . Yet her charm continues to operate on men through the massive walls of the prison at Versailles, one of the strongest in France.

Despite precautions, Lady Owen has apparently remained in communication with the outside world. . . . She has excited the passionate love of a young English millionaire who recently conspired with the chief warder of the prison and a number of other persons to rescue her. . . . It was only the suicide of the chief warder that prevented the plot from being successful.

The story of the attempted rescue rivals in romantic interest the most exciting episodes of "The Count of Monte Cristo" and "The Scarlet Pimpernel." Be sure to read this unusual article next Sunday in The American Weekly.

'THIS IS THE LIFE'

Drawn by Nell Brinkley

THIS is the life—cries one. THIS is the life—cries another. And they are joying over two things, two thrills, two pleasures, poles apart.

It's a splendid, elegant world that holds out suitcase for all thrills for all, a bargain counter of joy for the easily satisfied, dazzle for the greedy, simplicity for the city-wearied, a banquet table for the luxury-craving, a picnic under the green tree for the simple soul. Day life for the trekker, night life for the confetti and jazz thrower.

The port loves both night and day, and night has made many poets with her silver stars and her black velvet mantle, as the green and gold day has. But we are not all poets. And some like the night only for the night club. They adore the noise the other flees from. You and I can do without the night club; to us its air is dry and empty; that isn't "fun." But perhaps it's just as well we have them for our sakes as well as for those for whom they are a "vacation." For otherwise we might have the night-lifers out in our green meadows, making the whoopee of their kind. Would we like Texas Guinan to invade our favorite green retreat? To give the daisies and the lambs a raucous big hand?

Different ideas of what's "fun" and "rest." And different places that offer something for every idea. To get away from dazzle and noise and find a grand vacation for soul and body where a fellow can drink fresh milk, is one's intent. And her hurried trail hastening to reach what to her is a longed-for Paradise; crosses the path of the choo-choo that brings the one who thinks a good time in the biggest city in the U. S. after midnight, the epitome of relaxation and an elegant "time" and fake champagne a "treat."

—NELL BRINKLEY.
